BALLOT GETS ATTENTIONS

Indiana Senate Much Concerned for Purity of Elections.

FRANCHISE LAWS ARE NUMEROUS

News and Gossip of Indiana Legislature and the State Solons.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Members of the senate are paying a great deal of attention to bills affecting the election laws of the state in the form of registration, primary and corrupt practices acts. Senator S. D. Clark and Senator Levi P. Harlan, both of Indianapolis, have introduced primary and registration bills which are turned upon the unnaturalized element that has been a subject of discussion in the last few years in Indiana. The Clark measure provides for a general registration and the primary elections on United States senator and all other officers with the exception of those on the state ticket. Senator Harlan would make it the duty of the assessor to make the poll in the territory covered by him and have the registration done with him.

The resolution of E. B. Stotsenburg, of New Albany, introduced yesterday, affecting the voting qualifications of a foreigner and the second clause of the resolution which affects the manner in which the constitution may be amended, will call forth, it is believed, a discussion because of its second section. The resolution provides that a man would have to be an American citizen before he could vote. In this way Senator Stotsenburg seeks to do away with the voting of the "Hunky" and other classes of immigrants who have no interest in Indiana affairs.

To Make Amendment Easy.

By the provision which declares for the passage and adoption of a constitutional amendment which has been submitted to the people if it receives a majority of the votes cast upon it, instead of a majority of the votes cast for secretary of state at the same election, the senator seeks to make the state constitution easier to amend. It has been shown in the vote cast upon the amendment which has been presented to the people of the state at three general elections on the raising of the requirements of admission to the bar that the amendment was favored by the majority of the persons who expressed themselves upon the matter. According to the constitution it would have been adopted or rejected had a majority of the total vote cast been for or against it, but in the event that neither was the case there is a belief that the amendment is considered to be pending until it receives the notice of a majority of the state's electors.

By the proposal of Senator Stotsenburg the lawyer amendment would have been considered carried and the way would have been cleared for further amendments. The resolution will call forth a fight between those who are in favor of letting down the restrictions which were originally placed around the state's constitution and those who believe that the old method is the safest and best in the long run.

Senator Powers' Bill.

The bill introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Stephen A. Powers, of Angola, relating to the election of county school superintendents has been the subject of no little discussion in that it takes the power of choosing an official from the trustees of the townships of a county and makes the office elective at the hands of the people at a general election along with the other county offices.

"Under the present system," said Senator Powers in explaining the bill, "it is possible for a superintendent to hold his position indefinitely, if he is able to gain the support of the trustees of his county, and this has the effect of removing the control of the schools from the people. The measure I have proposed will restore the schools to the people and will make it impossible for a superintendent to get a perpetual hold on his place by the use of cigars, banquets and other means of gaining the good will of the trustees." Senator Powers has received communications from interested parties in different parts of the state on the subject and he feels that there is a growing sentiment in favor of the change in the present method of election.

Would Label Lobbyists.

Lobbyist, is the title which Representative McKennan, of Garrett, would make it compulsory to prefix to those members of the "third house," who represent interests concerned in the passage or killing of legislation and it is expected that the bill upon the subject, which he introduced in the house yesterday, will cause a hard fight before it is put out of the way.

The bill provides that all men representing outside interests, give their names, the names of those they represent, the amount of their salary and whether this is contingent upon the passage of the bills in which they are interested, the name of the bill in which they are interested and the length of time they expect to spend in the state house.

GROUNDED STEAMER FLOATED.

Atlantic City, N. J., Jan. 11.—The Barnegate life-saving station reports that the schooner Harold Cousens from St. John, N. B., for Washington, which grounded off Barnegate Monday night, was floated early today and proceeded north in tow of the revenue cutter Seneca. The damage sustained by the Cousens, if any, is not known here.

STATE CALLS IN THE JURY

Prosecutor Thomas Says He Wants Public to Help Him Out.

COMPLAINTS ARE MADE BY LETTER

Only One Case That Demands Action and It is Not Important.

Prosecutor Albert E. Thomas asked in the circuit court this afternoon that the grand jury be called in. Judge O'Rourke gave his consent and the body will begin its sessions next Monday morning.

"Quote me as saying," said Mr. Thomas, "that I want the widest publicity given to this call. The jurors will be in session next Monday and the session will continue so long as there is any necessity for holding the jurors together.

"I want everybody who has anything that ought to be presented to the grand jury to come in without being summoned. The meeting is called especially for the writers of a number of anonymous letters that have been received at my office lately.

"These refer to conditions generally, but do not make any specific charges or give any information upon which an investigation can be based. Make it as strong as you like that this meeting is called because there has been so much complaint of present conditions. The prosecutor's office has just one matter to present to the jurors. That is the case of Harrison Dollarhite and there is no special hurry about that. I am fully convinced that the people who have made complaints will come in voluntarily."

No Cases Demanding Session.

So far as the records of the court show Harrison Dollarhite, charged with the murder of Alfonso Blodgett in a pool room fight at Woodburn, is the only prisoner in the county jail or out on bond whose case demands the sitting of the grand jury and there is little likelihood that it would have been necessary to get an indictment in this instance as he is probably

THE REEVES JURY IS DEADLOCKED

WERE OUT ALL NIGHT

[Special to The Sentinel.]

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 11.—The case of the State of Indiana against Charles A. Reeves, the editor of the Hartford City Journal, who is charged with criminal libeling Marshal Sauer and Policeman Hunt by articles in which he is said to have accused the officers of perjury in a trial in which Editor Reeves was a defendant on a statutory offense, went to the jury last evening after a two days' hard fight.

It was 5 o'clock last evening when the jury retired to their rooms for deliberation. At 9 o'clock this forenoon they came into court and reported that they were unable to agree, and Judge C. E. Sturgis, of Bluffton, who is presiding, sent them back into their rooms.

It was reported this forenoon among court attendants that the jury stood 7 to 5 for acquittal. The general opinion is that the jury will be unable to agree.

BONILLA APPROACHES CEIBA.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 11.—A wireless dispatch received this morning from Ceiba, Honduras, states that great excitement prevails in that city over the approach of General Manuel Bonilla's revolutionary army and that the booming of the Hornet's guns can be heard in the distance. Business is suspended throughout the city, according to the report. The dispatch further states that Generals Bonilla and Lee Christmas, with an army of 5,000 men, yesterday occupied Cuero Solado, Juan Lopez, Obispo and Colorado, all important points along the coast.

Bonilla is reported to be moving rapidly toward Ceiba.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Young Men's society of the Emmaus Lutheran church met lastnight and elected the following officers: President, Samuel J. Roehm; vice president, Rev. Ph. Wambsganss; secretary, Fred Erase; financial secretary, Oscar Bender; treasurer, Philip Wambsganss; trustees, Henry Freese and Ed Boseker.

FIXES HOUSE APPORTIONMENT.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Crumpacker congressional reapportionment bill fixing the house membership at 433 exclusive of Arizona and New Mexico was ordered favorably reported to the house today by the census committee on motion of Representative Burleigh of Maine. The action was unanimous, though Mr. Snapp of Illinois, moved to make the number 391, as at present, which was promptly voted down. The bill will be brought up in the house at the earliest opportunity.

A WARM TIME IN THE HOUSE

Mr. Wells of Scottsburg Has a Desire to Be Informed.

DEHORITY REPORT TOO LONG COMING

Dr. Greenwell Introduces Some Bills in Senate —Legislature.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—There was a lively ten minutes in the lower house of the Indiana legislature at 11 o'clock today when Representative S. B. Wells, of Scott and Jennings counties, in an impassioned speech, demanded that his resolution introduced early in the session and demanding that W. H. Dehority, chairman of the state board of accounts, produce forthwith a statement of receipts and expenditures be brought into the house.

Would Not Be Mollified.

Chairman Joe Cravens of the ways and means committee sought to reassure the representative from Scottsburg saying that he had been told by Mr. Dehority that the report would be ready at 11 o'clock. Mr. Wells says that the hour had expired that there was no report in sight and demanded that the members of the house go on record in the matter.

On motion of minority leader Jesse E. Eschbach there was a calling of the ayes and noes and Mr. Wells's motion that the commission "be compelled" to produce its report was passed, 74 to 15.

It is said the board has its report practically ready, and that the same will be presented to the house in accordance with the Wells resolution tomorrow.

Story Back of Resolution.

There is a story back of the resolution offered by Representative Wells and it is freely whispered about in the house that the representative from Scottsburg was nipped by a shortage of an official in his county and that the alleged shortage was uncovered by the state board of which Mr. DeHority is the head. Mr. Wells, is it said, was on the bond of an official against whom charges were made by DeHority.

This was another day of bills in both branches of the legislature. In the house 32 were introduced and in the senate 23.

Bills in the Senate.

Prominent among the measures offered in the upper branch were two labor bills—one known as the child labor bill, the other as the Messenger bill. They were proposed by Senator W. B. Carlton, of Evansville. These measures were introduced in the house yesterday by Representative John J. Keegan, of Indianapolis. In the senate Senator Wood, of Lafayette, introduced a resolution backed by the Horse Thief Protective association of Tippecanoe county, and asking that the penalty for stealing a horse shall be changed from 2 to 21 years to from 5 to 21 years. Senator Frank M. Kistler, of Logansport, was at once on his feet to announce that he had on his desk three petitions of a like nature from similar organizations.

Senator Barlow, of Frankton, introduced a bill to abolish the death penalty and to substitute sentence for life in prison. Under the law as it stands now the sentence, either for death or life imprisonment is optional with the jury.

New Member of House.

The oath of office was administered to Representative George C. Clark, of Mishawaka, this morning by Speaker Albert J. Veneman. Mr. Clark, on account of illness, was not able to be present when the session convened last Thursday. A bill for the protection of sheep and the taxation of dogs led in stately dignity the long line of measures offered in the house today. It was offered by Representative William H. Moellering, of Fort Wayne.

Representative P. H. Veach, of Staunton, presented his measure to support indigent blind through taxation. The Veach measure would create a fund whereby the sightless poor might be provided for at the county farm or in a proper asylum. The author of the bill says his bill if enacted would remove from the streets blind alms seekers. A measure to give to township commissioners the right to levy a tax for the erection of soldiers' monuments was offered by J. Mason Duncan, of Clay and Owen counties. Restrictive sections, it is said, afford protection to the taxpayers, while the township, if it so desires, may honor its soldier dead.

Bill For Police Matrons.

Police matrons for towns of 20,00 and over are sought in a measure introduced by Senator Will R. Wood, of Lafayette. The bill describes the duties and requirements of these matrons in dealing with women prisoners who are brought into the court of the city.

Dr. Greenwell's Bill.

Senator Frank Greenwell, of Huntertown, introduced two measures, one of them a bill extending the field of the Mutual Fire Insurance companies of the state and the other a bill to provide that owners of farms may register their farm names with the clerk of the circuit court of the county in which he resides on the payment of one dollar as a registration fee. The bill is expected by the author to foster home pride and afford a sort of copyright for the farmers of the state upon the names of their homes.

IN FINAL FIGHT FOR ITS LIFE

Great Oil Octopus Facing Supreme Court in the Death Grapple.

GOVERNMENT IS ITS ANTAGONIST

Reargument of Appeal is Begun in Suit to Dissolve Trust.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The final fight of the Standard Oil for its very existence under the present organization is expected to begin late today in the supreme court of the United States. The argument in the tobacco dissolution suit is expected to be concluded about half an hour before court adjourns, according to the agreement entered into by counsel last week.

John G. Milburn, of New York, then will lay before the court the foundation for the defense for the Standard against the proposed dissolution under the Sherman anti-trust law.

Suit Began in 1906.

The suit under the Sherman anti-trust law to dissolve the Standard Oil organization was instituted in 1906 in the circuit court of the United States for the eastern district of Missouri. The proceedings were begun by the department of justice in the name of the United States against 114 corporations and seven individuals.

The principal corporation was the Standard Oil company of New Jersey. From 1882 to the present time this company is said to have operated refineries itself, but in 1899 its stock was increased to $100,000,000 so as to enable it to acquire the stock of nineteen other oil companies, which in turn owned a large number of companies, concerned in the oil business.

The Standard Oil company of New Jersey was designated as a holding company and is similar to the American Tobacco company, the organization of which was considered by the court during the last few days.

Rockefeller and His Associates.

The seven individuals named in the suit as defendants were John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller, Henry M. Flagler, Henry H. Rogers, John D. Archbold, Oliver H. Payne and

A MIGHTY CRUSH AT SCHENK TRIAL

Vast Mob of Curious Persons Flock to Wheeling Court House.

HUNDREDS TOO LATE

Wheeling, W. Va., Jan. 11.—While the crowd that besieged the Ohio county court house after the luncheon recess of the Schenk trial yesterday almost staggered the court and its attaches, it was apparent early today that there was to be little falling off in attendance of the sensation seeker and the morbidly curious. This is the third day of Mrs. Laura Farnsworth Schenk's ordeal of being placed on trial on the charge of poisoning her husband, and the second day in which testimony was taken. As early as 5 o'clock, four hours before the doors were thrown open, there was a knot of the curious assembled and by 9 o'clock there were fully 2,500 persons, with whom the police struggled and pleaded, pulled and hauled. Many of them disappointed in gaining admission to the court house brought lunches in baskets, boxes and in paper packages.

The first witness for today was Dr. Frank L. Hupp, who was on the stand when court adjourned yesterday. It was during Dr. Hupp's direct examination yesterday that Mrs. Schenk showed the first agitation over any of the testimony when the doctor told of statements of Mrs. Schenk's that "perhaps I would be better satisfied if you would let him die." He will probably occupy the stand the greater part of today.

OIL GUSHER ON FIRE.

Bakersfield, Cal., Jan. 11.—One of the great gushers of the Standard Oil company near here is on fire this morning. One hundred men worked all night to concentrate the steam from several boilers on the flames. The well was "brought in" about two months ago and is one of the biggest producers in the field.

THREE MINERS ENTOMBED.

Pittsburg, Pa., Jan. 11.—Two miners and a driver were entombed in a mine at Tarantum near here early today. The body of Andrew Felock, the driver, was recovered and three relays of men are working to reach Joseph and John Shikiski, who were pulling pillars when the accident happened.

HELD FOR INVESTIGATION.

Archie David was picked up on the street today while he was endeavoring to dispose of a camera. He said he bought it but his account was not satisfactory and Detective Sergeant Pappert sent him in for investigation

BOARD HALTS ITS INQUIRY

No New Evidence Obtained at Session With the Business Men.

WOMEN STAND ON A STOUT DENIAL

Says They Did Not Give Any Presents to Police Officers.

Members of the board of public safety have evidently reached the end of their string in the investigation of charges against police officials and unless there are some developments within the next few days the whole affair will have ended in the resignation of Robert Dickson.

Without some further information the board members will not have accomplished the important task of ascertaining who made the attempt to corrupt the police force and making the exposures that would naturally follow.

Unless it can be shown that presents were given to Dickson for the purpose of bribery, neither he nor the donors can be held criminally liable. No future plan of action has been mapped out and there were no developments last night and the cases were continued for ten days.

Closeted With Women.

Most of the session of last night was devoted to a star chamber session with Gladys Reed, keeper of a house of ill fame from which a package was sent to police headquarters on Christmas eve, and a woman employed in the establishment as a housekeeper.

An effort was made to secure a confession from the Reed woman that she gave the former captain a present, but she stood pat on her denial and stuck to it so convincingly that the board gave up its attempt to sweat her after about an hour of close questioning. Mary Maloly did not appear, but Attorney W. C. Ryan was there to represent her.

Business Men Were Called In.

A number of business men who had had dealings with the keepers of the houses of ill fame were called in with a view of ascertaining whether or not Mary Maloly had approached them with a proposition to pay her a commission on the goods sold in the red light districts. All with the exception of Louis C. Langard denied it.

Mr. Langard said that a couple of months ago, after he had declined to sell to a couple of these women who had been customers, but who had become so slow in the payment of their bills that he declined to extend further credit, the Maloly woman came into his store and told him she would guarantee the bills.

He said he declined to accept her guarantee and told her that his drivers would be instructed to get the money before delivering the goods. She paid several bills and then proposed that he advance the price 25 per cent. and give her ten. He declined to do it.

A few days afterward she met him and told him she would be willing to accept 5 per cent and he told her then never to speak to him on the subject again and that he did not want any of her trade. None of the other witnesses had been approached and most of them dealt directly with the keepers of the houses so their testimony was of no value.

Mr. Moynihan Out of Town.

It had been expected that another attempt would be made to have A. J. Moynihan disclose the source of the information upon which he based his charges in the Journal-Gazette, but he was called out of the city and did not get back until after the hearing had been finished for the evening.

Mr. Moynihan said on Monday that he expected to be able within a few days to give the board some valuable information and one of the objects in continuing the cases is to see whether or not he will be ready to impart the source of the communications upon which he based his newspaper accusations.

In the meantime Dickson is still of the opinion that he was made the victim of a plot to get his job. He has not fully decided what course to pursue and is awaiting the outcome of the board's investigations and watching developments.

Members of the board announced at the outset that they would carry the matter to the circuit court if they found it necessary, but the only information that has been held and upon which this action can be taken is Mr. Moynihan's refusal to disclose the name of the man responsible for his charges.

EMINENT JERSEYITE DIES.

Committee of Wisconsin Says Stephenson Has Tainted Toga.

UNITED STATES SENATOR IS HIT

Madison, Wis., Jan. 11.—United States Senator Isaac Stephenson is charged with a number of violations of the laws of Wisconsin in a lengthy statement filed with Governor E. F. McGovern by the state senate committee in its report upon the investigation of the primary campaign and election of Senator Stephenson. The committee recommends that a copy of the report be submitted to the United States senate and that body investigate Mr. Stephenson's election.

Senator Stephenson is charged with violating the statute which requires an account under oath of campaign expenditures to be filed and it is also charged that such violation was premeditated. It is further charged:

That he violated the law which prohibits any one from contributing money to assist a candidate for the legislature residing out of the district in which the contributor resides.

That the civil service law of this state was violated when he caused to be paid money which the evidence shows was paid to State Game Warden Stone and L. B. Dresser, then president of the board of control.

Knew How He Got It.

"On the whole record therefore," the report states, "Stephenson is charged with knowledge of the manner in which his campaign was being conducted and the purpose for which money probably in excess of $50,000, was being disbursed.

"The failure to keep or require accounts and the practice of destroying original memoranda by those engaged in disbursing Stephenson's funds in the campaign makes it clear there was premeditation and method

CHICAGO JUDGE RECEIVES BOMB

PUZZLES JUDGE OWEN

Chicago, Jan. 11.—A dynamite bomb was found early in the vestibule of the home of County Judge John E. Owens, recently elected on the democratic ticket. It was about seven inches long and an inch in diameter, lead covered, and its fuse appeared to have been fired but to have burned out.

Miss Ida Owens, a sister of the jurist, found the bomb when she opened the vestibule door to secure the morning papers. She carried it into the house where the judge himself unwrapped it from the wet newspaper with which it was encased.

It was beside the wall of his library, where he was accustomed to spend part of his evenings.

"I thought, first, it was some sort of a joke," said the judge today. "Then when I saw that the fuse evidently had been lighted, I thought I had better turn it over to the police which I did. I can't imagine what would prompt any one to blow up my house and I think later it will be found to have been a joke."

When the lead casing of the bomb had been cut into by the police it was seen to contain a coarse, reddish powder which had become wet. It was believed by the police to be high power blasting powder, and the bomb was sent to the bureau of explosives.

URGE ANTI-PROFANITY ACT.

Trainmen Ask Legislature to Prohibit Swearing on Trains.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 11.—The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, through its legislative lobbyist, Fred L. Feick, has prepared a bill to prohibit the use of profanity on all railroad trains in the state and give conductors the right to eject any passenger violating the law. Railroad conductors are given authority to eject intoxicated passengers unless such persons are accompanied by officers of the law.

DYNAMITE JOB AT GARY.

Gary, Ind., Jan. 11.—As a result, the police say, of the labor war which has been going on here since last November, a new three story building at Fifth avenue and Harrison street, nearing completion, was wrecked by a bomb last night. No arrests have been made.

ANARCHISTS ARRESTED.

Munich, Bavaria, Jan. 11.—Twenty-three alleged anarchists were arrested while holding a meeting today. Papers supposed by the police to be of an incriminating nature were seized.

FIVE PERISH IN BIG FIRE

Lives Lost When Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce is Destroyed.

FIVE MEN ARE STILL MISSING

Blaze of Trifling Sort Gets Away and Building is Burned Down.

Cincinnati, Jan. 11.—That five persons lost their lives in the fire that gutted the massive seven story building of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce last night, resulting in the injury of a score of persons and causing damage estimated to be close to a million dollars, was the belief of police and firemen who today began a search of the ruins. Six men who were known to be in the building when the fire started are reported as missing. Inquiry at their homes brought the information that they had not been heard from since the fire.

It is possible that some of them have not perished in the flames.

The Missing.

The missing are:

S. S. Siebald, secretary of the Early & Daniel company.

Brent Marshall, vice president of the Early & Daniel company.

Fred Selm, night engineer.

Chris Ments, night watchman.

It is expected that all of the injured will recover. Most of the hurts were sustained by flying debris from the burning structure.

Insignificant at First.

The fire when first discovered was insignificant. It was a small blaze on the roof near the kitchen of the Business Men's club. There was a banquet in the club rooms and other diners swelled the total to more than 200. The diners were apprised of the fact that the building was on fire, but were told it was of no consequence. They marched quietly out of the building to the street. Many other men were at work in offices of the building in which there was quite a number. Some of these ran out at the first alarm, but others continued at work and are believed to have been caught when the roof suddenly collapsed.

Besides the chamber of commerce, the Business Men's club and the Louisville & Nashville railroad office, more than a score of other business concerns had quarters in the destroyed building. Their loss will be complete. It is believed the damage is fully covered by insurance.

Business Not Interrupted.

The destruction of its building will not cause an interruption of business on 'change members. Immediately after it was seen that the building would be destroyed James Heekin, president of the chamber of commerce, made arrangements for temporary quarters in the Sinton hotel, where the convention hall will be used by the grain men and other trades to transact business. The annual election of officers of the chamaber was scheduled for today, and it was announced that it will be conducted in the new quarters.

The fire started near the roof of the building through which the flues of the Business Men's club kitchen led. When first discovered it was a small blaze, but shortly after the firemen arrived a great burst of flames broke out and the whole interior of the seven-story structure was afire. The firemen worked heroically but were unable to prevent the destruction of the building.

MR. WU WILL CUT HIS QUEUE.

San Francisco, Jan. 11.—All the local Chinese newspapers publish what purports to be a message from Wu Ting Fang, late minister to the United States announcing the date he has fixed for the removal of his queue. The date fixed is January 30 on the western calendar. On that day, it is reported, many local merchants will follow his example and celebrate the parting with their queues at a big banquet.

PSYCHOANALYSIS IT IS.

Baltimore, Jan. 11.—Based on the theory of Dr. Sigmund Freud, of Vienna, that all nervous diseases are a product of the discord of two personalities in each person, the conscious and the unconscious, there will soon be established at the Johns Hopkins hospital a ward for the treatment of such diseases by methods hitherto untried on this side of the Atlantic ocean. Psychoanalysis the treatment is called.

THE WEATHER.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Forecast for Indiana: Snow in north, rain or snow in south portion tonight; much colder with a cold wave in north and central portions; Thursday fair; much colder with a cold wave in south portion.

Ohio: Snow in north, rain turning to snow in south; Thursday, local snows and much colder with a cold wave; winds becoming northwest and brisk to high.

Lower Michigan: Snow in north and west, rain turning to snow in southeast portion tonight; Thursday, local snows and much colder with a cold wave; brisk to high northwest to north winds.

Illinois: Snow flurries in north, rain in south portion tonight or Thursday; much colder.

NOW GOES TO 7 PER CENT. BASIS

Lincoln Life Directors Declare Increased Dividend.

YEAR'S BIG GROWTH

Just prior to the annual meeting of the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, held this afternoon at the general offices of the company in the Shoaff building, the board of directors declared a dividend of 7 per cent. for the year to stockholders of the company. It was ordered paid in semi-annual installments, 3½ per cent. to stock of record December 31 just passed and the remaining 3½ per cent. to stock of record June 30 next.

The significance of the increased dividend is that the company's growth during the past year has placed its stock upon a 7 per cent. basis, and this too, in addition to the addition of about $12,000 to the surplus of the company and the payment of about $10,000 in dividends to policy holders. Some four hundred stockholders of the company share in the dividend declared today.

Year Was Satisfactory.

Reports submitted by company officials at the annual meeting show that the past year has been a most satisfactory one for the big Fort Wayne company, which has now completed its fifth year of business. Last year the stock divdend was 6 per cent, and there is every prospect that the handsome growth of the company will continue.

Secretary Arthur F. Hall, in the course of the meeting this afternoon, explained to stockholders the details of a new policy which the company now has in press and which will soon be available. It is expected that it will prove one of the most attractive forms of life insurance ever offered to the public.

The board of directors was continued without change.

HIS CONDITION NOT PROMISING

Judge Colerick is Waging Unequal Battle for Recovery.

PATIENT VERY WEAK

Waging with his enfeebled vitality an unequal battle for recovery, the condition of Judge Walpole G. Colerick, who yesterday submitted to a surgical operation at the Lutheran hospital, is not encouraging.

It was stated today that the patient had not been able to show the recuperative power for which physicians and attendants hoped, and that while there is an entire absence of sepsis or other untoward condition as regards the operation itself, the extremely weak condition of the patient has prevented an encouraging rally from the shock of the ordeal.

"Judge Colerick is not doing well," was the response made from the hospital today in response to an inquiry concerning his condition, and the friends of the distinguished lawyer are extremely apprehensive of the outcome. It was said yesterday that a matter of perhaps thirty-six hours must elapse with unbroken rally before the patient could be pronounced out of danger.

John B. Miller, City Grocery Salesman, is No More.

THE DEATHS TODAY

John B. Miller, residing at 1226 Wells street and employed as a city salesman for the wholesale grocery house of Moellering Bros. & Millard, died Wednesday morning at the Lutheran hospital at the age of 38 years.

Death was due to stomach trouble, and Mr. Miller had undergone two surgical operations in the effort to regain his health. He was a native of Fort Wayne and was widely known. Surviving relatives include the widow and a daughter, Irene, as well as a brother, Anthony Miller, and a sister, Mrs. Charles Noll. The deceased was a member of the Eagles, the Modern Woodmen of America and the Travelers' Protective association.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence.

ENGELKING.

Albert Edward Engelking, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Engelking, 1310 Webster street, died at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the age of five weeks. The father of the little one is in the employ of A. H. Perfect & Co.

DUFF.

Izora Duff, 49 years of age, died at 7 o'clock last evening at the home of his brother-in-law, John Pratt, 2026 North Clinton street, from dropsy after an illness of several weeks.

He was born in Rich county, W. Va., and came to Fort Wayne a number of years ago. Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: G. Randall Duff, Coburg, Ore., James Duff, in Oklahoma; Mrs. Louisa Pratt, Mrs. Lydia Ayres, Parkersburg, W. Va.; Mrs. Evelyn Terrill, Marietta, O.; Mrs. Maggie Davis, Claire, W. Va., and Mrs. Lucinda Leazier Fort Wayne.

Funeral services Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from the residence.

ELLET.

Herman H. Ellett, a well-known Perry township farmer, died at 7 o'clock last evening at his home on the Auburn road, twelve miles north of this city, from cancer of the kidney at the age of 47 years, 4 months and 8 days.

Mr. Ellet had been a resident of Perry township for the last eleven years. He is survived by his widow and a son, Albert Ellet, as well as by his mother and the following brothers and sisters: John and Christian Ellet, of Allen county, and Gustave Ellet, of New Albany; Mrs. Charles Gombert, of Allen county, and Mrs. Charles Doctor, of Antwerp, O.

The remains were brought to the city today and taken to the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Jacobine Stumpf, 730 West Superior street. Funeral services Friday afternoon at 1:30 from the residence and at 2 o'clock from St. John's Lutheran church.

FUNERAL NOTICES.

FIND POOLROOM IN MORTUARY PARLOR

Inquisitive Copper Raids a Gambling Den Where Dead Ones Reign.

SAID IT WAS A WAKE

San Francisco, Jan. 11.—Suspicious of patronage enjoyed by a downtown undertaker proportionate to a time of epidemic or disaster, detectives entered the place yesterday and found a gathering of men.

"Why so many here?" queried the sleuths.

"We are holding a wake for a dead friend," replied a mournful member of the group.

"We will see your dead friend," said the detectives.

But no corpse was to be found.

"The corpse is nailed up in a box to be sent home for burial," was explained. Then all the boxes in the place were pried into without avail.

"Why these form charts and tickets?" asked a detective, diving for a parcel held in the lap of one of the men.

Then he marched them all to the police station, where they were booked for running and patronizing a poolroom contrary to an ordinance.

MEXICAN FEDERALS ROUTED.

El Paso, Texs., Jan. 11.—Passengers arriving here from the south yesterday state that a battle took place between 150 federals under Lieut. Cervantes and a party of insurrectos near Janos Sunday. The federals are said to have been routed with a loss of sixteen killed. The troops were part of Robago's command, which passed through Juarez last Saturday. A band of 275 insurrectos is said to be advancing toward Barbicada.

Mrs. C. Hettler and Mrs. M. C. Oakes went to Van Wert yesterday to attend a funeral service.

BEVERIDGE STIRS THE REFORMERS

Tells Tariff Commission Convention the Time Has Come.

MEET IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Albert J. Beveridge stirred the convention of the national tariff commission association to great enthusiasm at its opening session today when he declared that, while victory for the permanent tariff commission idea already was in sight, a greater victory—the triumph of organized public opinion—would be marked by the creation of the commission.

He predicted that the present session of congress would see the enactment of tariff commission legislation, but he advised the convention to insist through its representatives in congress on a non-partisan, all powerful commission.

Prof. Henry C. Emery, chairman of the present tariff board, addressed the convention, presenting a plea for the "immortality of the commission."

Beginning with an address by Prof. Henry C. Emery, of Yale, chairman of the present tariff board, speeches were delivered today by many prominent advocates of the scientific tariff revision and included H. E. Miles, of Racine, Wis.; Senator Beveridge, of Indiana; Representative McCall, of Massachusetts.

For tomorrow President Schurmann, of Cornell; Representatives Irvine L. Lenroot, of Wisconsin, and James T. Burke, of Pennsylvania, appear on the program and in the evening the convention will be concluded with a banquet at which President Taft, Senator Cummins, of Iowa; Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts; Senator Newlands, of Nevada, and Representative Longworth, of Ohio, are to be the speakers. The convention will be more pretentious than the one held at Indianapolis two years ago, the membership in the association having increased largely since that time.

McCall's Address.

Representative McCall, a member of the ways and means committee of the house, commended the work of the present tariff board and urged that it be made a permanent body. He emphasized the necessity for scientific investigation of the elements in the cost of production in all parts of the world and presented a plea for the recognition of the "constitutional prerogative of the house over tariff laws," charging that special interests "have vastly more influence in the senate."

He said in part:

"The prime purpose of such a commission is the scientific determination of the economic facts necessary for the information of congress and what is of really more importance for the information of the people. The cost of production here and abroad is a proper subject of inquiry, but I doubt whether it deserves quite the importance that has been given it since it first found a place in a political platform two years ago.

Ascertain Cost of Production.

"The cost of production should be ascertained along with other elements and then the commission should be authorized to report all the facts directly to congress. Another function of which little has been said but which it is most important that the commission should perform, is to assertain the effect of the tariff upon the prices of articles of general consumption.

"But we must not expect too much of such a commission. It cannot operate as an artificial deity and separate us from all our troubles in the making of tariffs. The sins committed in the framing of tariffs are not all sins of ignorance. There never has been a general tariff bill passed which did not contain some duties obnoxious to any intelligent member of congress who had carefully studied the bill."

willing to enter a plea of guilty under the affidavit.

Widely published stories of graft and the demand that it be made the subject of grand jury investigation is the real reason for the call. All of the machinery of the prosecutor's office will be set in motion to uncover any crime that may exist but the aid of the public is absolutely necessary to make an investigation effective.

Mr. Thomas stated that he had in mind no particular line of proceedure but believes that when once it is known that the jury will be ready to hear complaints he can open up the channels from which he may obtain the truth or falsity of the public charges that have been made.

It will not be necessary for the persons who have made these complaints to appear in person. They may be able to give the state facts upon which it can go ahead and which will enable the prosecutor to get hold of the witnesses he desires.

Had Been Drawn.

The grand jury for the present term of the court was drawn at the opening of the session and is composed of Julian Farra, St. Joe township; D. H. Crabill, Monroe; Jacob A. Thiebaut, Eel River; Conrad Branning, Aboit; Frank Ream, Cedar Creek, and Albert Thompson, Fort Wayne.

The general rule is that not all of the men who are selected are able to serve and some of them cannot be located but the panel will be filled and it is likely that at least one more man living in Fort Wayne will be included so that the investigation may be made more thorough.

CITY BREVITIES.

D. K. Leas, of the Citizens' bank at Waterloo, was in the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Titus have gone to Chicago to attend the funeral of their niece, Miss Lillie Devor.

ble lists on which to bestow its kindly benefactions if a bill introduced today by Representative Harry G. Strickland, of Greenfield, becomes a law. The Strickland measure provides that orphans of regular army soldiers or the grandchildren of soldiers of the civil war whose mothers are dead shall be eligible to the home.

A measure aimed at the practice of turning over highways by county commissioners for railroad building was offered by Representative Gus H. Grieger, of Laporte and Porter counties. Representative S. E. Voris, of Montgomery county, offered two bills—one to validate outstanding bonds of cities and towns and school cities and towns; the other to validate outstanding road bonds. The author says the object of his measure is to clear up clerical errors that have crept into books and to provide a clean slate.

To Keep Turpentine Pure.

On the request of the pure food and drug commissioner, Representative White, of Park county, offered a bill against the adulteration of turpentine. The commissioner acted, according to Mr. White, on numerous complaints sent to him from furniture dealers, painters and others.

Representative George D. Sunkel, of Vermilion county, sent to the reading desk a bill to increase the term of the Vermilion circuit court from four to five weeks. Mr. Sunkel offered another bill today that provided for an increase in fees for issuing commissions. The measure fixes $10 as the fee for issuing a senatorial commission and is graduated down to $2 for a notary's commission.

To Pay for the Paper.

Mr. Sunkel says his measure represents an effort to get out of the process of issuing commissions at least what the paper on which they are written cost.

The shot-firers' measure, which provides that operators and not miners shall pay the cost of shot-firing and which is said to be endorsed by both owners and men, was introduced in the house by Representative John Massellink, of Terre Haute.

J. Delbert Foor, of Vigo county, offered a measure to regulate the sale of cocaine. Representative J. B. Merriman, of Bluffton, offered a resolution providing a constitutional amendment by which the people would be given the initiative and the referendum.

Both the senate and the house adjourned at 11 o'clock until 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Senator Fred W. Beale, of Terre Haute, helped the Lake county superior court fight along today when he introduced a bill creating a superior court at Gary. Senator Gavit, of Whiting, already had introduced a bill for a superior court at Hammond.

Powers' Skunk Bill.

There was a good deal of merriment in the senate when Senator Stephen A. Powers, of Angola, offered two petitions from his constituents in Steuben county praying that his "skunk bill" be passed.

After the conclusion of the session of the senate, T. E. Spottswood, of Terre Haute, who was a member of the lower house in 1855, was introduced to the senators. He spoke briefly and said it afforded him a peculiar pleasure to again visit the scenes of his service to the state of more than half a century ago.

ANOTHER CASE OF BUYING IT

on the part of Stephenson and his managers to cover up their methods of conducting the campaign. That he approved of these methods cannot be doubted.

"In addition to the several acts of corruption and fraud herein referred to, it should be remembered that the election of Isaac Stephenson on March 4 was made possible by three democrats who, at the instigation of the Stephenson managers and agents, walked out of the joint assembly when it became known that their presence would prevent the election of Isaac Stephenson.

Has Forfeited His Seat.

"Under the law, if a person elected clearly participated in any act of bribery or attempted bribery, he should be denied office although the result of the election was not thereby changed. This, in the opinion of the committee, Senator Stephenson did.

"The findings of the committee are that the nomination in the primary and the election to the United States senate by the legislature of Isaac Stephenson, of Wisconsin, is 'null and void, on account of attempted bribery and bribery, corrupt practices by himself and by his campaign managers, agents and workers and of violations of the laws of Wisconsin defining and punishing offenses against the elective franchise.

"The committee recommends that a copy of this report be certified to the United States senate by the governor and the legislature with the request that that body investigate the manner and means by and through which Isaac Stephenson secured his election to the United States senate its action thereon."

The report further recommends that prosecutions be commenced by the district attorney of Dane county against all persons shown by the evidence to have committed perjury in the investigation and that a like copy o fthe evidence be submitted to the attorney general with the recommendation that he cause to be commenced prosecution against all persons shown by the evidence to have been guilty of corrupt practice or of perjury.

LODGE MAY NOT LAND.

Boston, Jan. 11.—What will follow the republican legislative caucus called for next Monday afternoon to choose a candidate for United States senator is the question of leading political interests in Massachusetts today. That Henry Cabot Lodge, will be named to succeed himself is quite generally conceded but the point in doubt is whether or not a sufficient number of republicans to elect will enter the caucus. On joint ballot the republican vote would be 153 or twelve more than the required majority necessary to elect. The caucus is expected to nominate Mr. Lodge by acclamation and then adopt a resolution binding all present to vote for him in the legislature. Representative Butler Ames' friends claim to have the pledges of enough republican members to prevent the re-election of Senator Lodge and these will not enter the caucus, it is said. At the same time, it is declared none of the "insurgents" will vote for a democrat even to beat Lodge and a dead lock is predicted.

The democrats mentioned for the nomination at the caucus of that party tomorrow afternoon are ex-Representative John R. Thayer, of Worcester; James H. Vahey, twice the party's candidate for governor, and Representative Joseph W. O'Connell, of Boston.

Charles M. Pratt. The part these men are said to have played in the alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law has been summarized by the government as follows:

About 1870 the Rockefellers and Flagler conceived the purpose of controlling the petroleum trade, both domestic and export, and obtaining a monopoly thereof. They entered into a conspiracy to accomplish this purpose, which from time to time took the form of various combinations. Shortly after 1870 the Rockefellers and Flagler were joined in the conspiracy by Rogers, Archbold, Payne and Pratt.

Form of the Conspiracy.

The form which the alleged conspiracy took is described by the government as being from 1870 to 1882 "a combination between a large number of manufacturers, who acted in harmony and whose stock interests were pooled in the hands of three trustees in 1879."

From 1882 to 1899 the form of the alleged combination was that of a trust agreement, whereby the stock of a large number of corporations was placed in the hands of trustees, who managed the property. From 1899 to the present time the combination is alleged to have taken the form of a holding company, the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Found It an Illegal Corporation.

The four judges in the circuit court found that the Standard Oil was an illegal combination in restraint of interstate commerce and was also monopolizing the oil trade. A decree was entered enjoining the holding company from exercising any control over the subsidiary companies, and enjoining the subsidiary companies from paying any dividends to the holding company. All were enjoined from engaging in interstate commerce until the illegal combination was discontinued.

What the Court Found.

The court also found that the Standard Oil:

Produced more than 1-10 of the crude oil obtained in this country.

Owned and operated more than ½ of all the tank cars used to distribute its products.

Manufactured more than ¾ of all the crude oil refined in the United States.

Transported more than 4-5 of the petroleum derived from the Pennsylvania and Indiana oil fields.

Marketed more than 4-5 of all the illuminating oil sold in the United States.

Exported more than 4-5 of all the illuminating oil sent forth from the United States.

Sold more than 4-5 of all the naphtha sold in the United States.

Sold more than 9-10 of all the lubricating oil sold to the railroad companies in the United States.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

HIGH PRICES FOR COUNTRY BUTTER

Huntington Grocers Hold to Contract Prices and Get More Than They Can Sell.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 11.—Grocery men of Huntington seem to have themselves in a hole from which there is no escape. They are paying twenty-eight cents a pound for butter and getting more of it than they can sell. The packing house at the same time is only paying sixteen cents a pound for country packing butter and is not anxious to get much of it at that price. The grocery men must pay the high price because they have almost all contracted for butter at that level. They must continue to pay high schedules and at the same time push their retail prices slightly higher in order to make up their deficit on what they dispose of elsewhere.

Receipts of butter so far this year has been enormously heavy. That is, in the case of the country product. A man connected with the Beyer Bros. packing house said that they were buying more butter now than during the summer. One grocer is still selling country butter at forty cents a pound and eggs at forty cents a dozen.

Creamery butter is selling from the producers at thirty-one cents a pound. Of course there is an excuse for selling this product at fancy prices, but the cheaper product is not in this class.

OVER TWO MILLION DOLLARS

Was Value of Property Transferred in Wabash Last Year.

Wabash, Ind., Jan. 11.—County Recorder Al Schuler has filed his annual report of the work of his office for the year 1910. During the year there were 1,026 warranty and quit claim deeds filed for record and these were for a total value of $2,284,603. This amount of transferred land shows that property in the county is changing hands frequently. The report on mortgages is also very interesting. During the year there were 350 mortgages recorded on farm lands of a total face value of $728,058. There were satisfied on farm mortgages 475 of a value of $58,522. In the city and town lots were recorded 306, of a value of $222,579.

WILL CONDUCT THEATER.

Columbia City, Ind., Jan. 11.—Misses Dora and Maggie Strauss, who have been managing the Lyceum theater in the Washburn block for Dan Early, of Fort Wayne, have secured the lease for the moving picture emporium, and will continue to operate the amusement place. Miss Alta Worden, who has been singer and pianist, will remain with them.

A PLEA FOR MERCY GRANTED BY JUDGE

Defendant, in Destitute Circumstances, Stole Wood to Keep Family Fire at Home Going.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 11.—Ralph L. Porter, of Fort Wayne, formerly a resident of Auburn, voluntarily appeared in the circuit court here yesterday before Judge Frank M. Powers to face the charge of having stolen a quantity of wood from the Conner school house east of Auburn, last May, which charge had been preferred against him by Trustee S. M. Brandon.

His story, in explanation of his act, was a pitiable one and he told it in a straightforward manner to the judge. He is a man past 62 years of age and had a family of six children to support. He was making his living by buying junk over the country, by which he managed to support his family in a way. The fore part of May his horse died. He was compelled to buy another horse. His family was forced to the strictest economy. In May all his children were sick with the mumps. He made a long trip to near Newville in search of junk one day and met with poor success. Coming home he passed the school house about 9 o'clock at night. Knowing the sickness in his family and that there was no fuel at home, and he was without means to purchase any, he put a quantity of wood on his wagon and hauled it home.

Learning that the trustee had filed an affidavit against him, he remained away from home, and working, sent all of his earnings home to support his family. With the help of his eldest son, his family were getting along fairly well until in September, when typhoid fever broke out in his family and one after another were taken sick until four children were confined to their beds, and his wife was left broken in health to care for them.

Two of the boys were finally sent to the hospital at Garrett, where the oldest boy, Frank, died on the seventh day of November, and the other son finally recovered.

The family was in destitute circumstances, without means to bury the dead or care for the living. The father returned home the evening the son died and remained until after the funeral, and assisted his wife with much needed work in the home, and then returned to his work at Fort Wayne, where he has been engaged during the summer in buying produce and selling it in the market. As soon as he earned enough money to do so, he moved his family to Fort Wayne, where they now reside.

The story of the defendant interested the large audience in the court room at the time and some of the listeners were moved to tears as the man told of his misfortunes and afflictions. Judge Powers was visibly affected and after the defendant was through the judge fined Porter $1 and costs and sentenced him to twenty days in jail. He, however, suspended both the pail sentence and the costs and Mr. Porter was required to pay but one dollar. This he did and was released from custody. He returned to Fort Wayne.

NAT AND THE CHORUS LADIES.

That is Why the Fourth Mrs. Goodwin Seeks a Divorce.

St. Louis, Jan. 11.—Attentions alleged to have been paid to chorus girls by Nat Goodwin during his engagement here in the summer of 1909, will form the basis of a divorce suit to be filed by his fourth wife, Edna Goodrich, according to depositions taken today. Herman Roth, counsel for Miss Goodrich, and John B. Edwards, representing Goodwin, yesterday examined witnesses before a notary. Jack Harris, a chauffeur, testified that he drove Goodwin and several chorus girls through Forest park all of one night.

Walter Price, a waiter, testified that he had served drinks to Goodwin and a company of chorus girls at the former's tent near the theater, after the shows.

Miss Goodrich's attorneys announced that one of the chorus girls is to be named as co-respondent in the suit.

SOLD GOODS ON SUNDAY.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 11.—After a trial in the city court lasting several hours a jury in the case of the state versus W. B. Ihrig, charged with Sabbath desecration, returned a verdict of guilty and a fine of $1 and costs. Ihrig sold a pair of suspenders and two pairs of children's hose to a colored man about 8 o'clock Sunday morning. Pursuant to orders from the police board the patrolman arrested the clerk forthwith.

HORSE 37 YEARS OLD.

Montpelier, Ind., Jan. 11.—"Net," a horse belonging to T. C. Neal, of this city, probably the oldest horse in Indiana, is dead. Her lifeless remains were found yesterday in the barn in the woods, where she has been spending, in retirement, the latter years of her life. "Net" was two months past 37 years of age. Mr. Neal drove her in his livery business for twenty-one years. Four years ago he pensioned her.

CRUELTY TO HORSE.

Columbia City, Ind., Jan. 11.—Jacob Kiefer, residing in South Columbia township, was brought before 'Squire Garty upon the charge of cruelty to animals. He was accused of leaving his horse stand hitched in the street from 9 o'clock in the morning until 9 at night. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was assessed a fine of $1 and costs, the total being $12.65, which he paid.

NEW MONTPELIER MARSHAL.

Montpelier, Ind., Jan. 11.—William C. Reynolds, who received an appointment a week ago as a deputy state gas inspector for Blackford county, has tendered his resignation as city marshal of Montpelier, and Mayor Burris accepted it and appointed John W. Lee as the new marshal. The new marshal has been employed as driver of a creamery wagon through the country.

He Struck the Right Thing

MANY OF THIS LOCALITY CONTINUE TO PRAISE IT.

About every three months the Root Juice Medicine Company, of Fort Wayne, Ind., has to double its capacity in the manufacture of the wonderful Root Juice that has made so many remarkable cures throughout the country. We are told that the company is deluged with letters from the afflicted of every part of the United States. Hundreds and hundreds of people write to the company for information, and many of them send money through the mail, as there is no agency in their locality. Since Bradley Bros. got the agency at this point hundreds of people have bought the remedy, and as the Root Juice business here it not above the average, the inventor of the remedy is certainly being rewarded. But such should be the case, as the medicine gives wonderful satisfaction and seems to permanently cure some of the most stubborn stomach, liver and kidney troubles, rheumatism and nervous weakness. Many people living at this point and vicinity, whom we know, have called at the drug store to express their thanks for the great good Root Juice has done for them. Among the many whom Root Juice has cured was Joseph Simpson. He said: "I had a complication of stomach, liver and kidney troubles, of long standing. I suffered very much and used many different medicines, without being benefited, but, I tell you, I struck the right thing when I got Root Juice, as three bottles of the great medicine has entirely cured me." Hardly a day passes without someone calling at the drug store to praise the medicine.

RESIST PROBATE OF FATHER'S WILL

Estate Amounts to $200,000 in Farm Lands and Also City Real Estate.

Marion, Ind., Jan. 11.—There is pending in the circuit court of Grant county a suit brought by Solomon Johnson, son of the late James Johnson, of the Mississinewa bottoms, near Upland, against Emma Wise and other heirs, to resist the probating of the deceased father's will. Since the suit no effort has been made to have the will admitted to probate. On Monday Alva Johnson, a grandson, filed a motion in the circuit court asking that a special administrator be appointed to look after the affairs of the estate, pending the settlement of questions in litigation. A showing is made that the estate amounts to about $200,000 in lands and real estate in the city of Marion. It is shown too that it is necessary that the farm industries be kept in motion to prevent deterioration. The appointment of Harry T. Connelly, cashier of the Upland State bank, is asked.

GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 11.—Robert Douglass, of Monticello, was intoxicated in the Panhandle depot and fell against a weighing machine, knocking skin off for a considerable distance. Supt. Morris answered the call and escorted the man to headquarters, where after his face was wiped clean of blood he was taken into the city court room. Douglass entered a plea of guilty and was fined $1 and costs. He was taken to jail to serve eleven days.

The Adventures of Mr. Peter Ruff

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Mr. Vincent Cawdor, Commission Agent

COPYRIGHT, 1909, BY THE PEARSON PUBLISHING CO.

Now it is possible that at this precise moment Marnstam would have made his spring for the window and Rounceby his running fight for liberty. The hands of both men were upon their revolvers, and John Dory's life was a thing of no account. But at this juncture a thing happened. There were in the room the two policemen guarding the swing doors, and behind them the pale faces of a couple of night porters looking anxiously in. Vincent Cawdor and Miss Brown were standing side by side, a little in the background, and the young man who had been their companion had risen also to his feet. As though with some intention of intervening, he moved a step forward, almost in line with Dory. Rounceby saw him, and a new fear gripped him by the heart. He shrank back, his fingers relaxed their hold of his weapon, the sweat was hot upon his forehead. Marnstam, though he seemed for a moment stupefied, realized the miracle which had happened and struck boldly for his own.

"If this is a joke," he said, "it strikes me as being a particularly bad one. I should like to know, sir, how you dare to come into this room and charge me and my friend—Mr. Rounceby with being concerned in the murder of a young man who is even now actually standing by your side."

John Dory started back. He looked with something like apprehension at the youth to whom Marnstam pointed.

"My name is Victor Franklin," that young man declared. "What's all this about?"

John Dory felt the ground give beneath his feet. Nevertheless, he set his teeth and fought for his hand.

"You say that your name is Victor Franklin?" he asked.

"Certainly!"

"You are the inventor of a flying machine?"

"I am."

"You were in Westmoreland with these two men a few days ago?"

"I was," the young man admitted.

"You left the village of Scawton in a motor car with them?"

"Yes! We quarrelled on the way, and parted."

"You were robbed of nothing?"

Victor Franklin smiled.

"Certainly not," he answered. "I had nothing worth stealing except my plans, and they are in my pocket now."

There was a few moments' intense silence. John Dory wheeled suddenly round, and looked to where Mr. Vincent Cawdor had been standing.

"Where is Mr. Cawdor?" he asked, sharply.

"The gentleman with the gray mustache left a few seconds ago," one of the men at the door said.

John Dory was very pale.

"Gentlemen," he said, "I have to offer you my apologies. I have apparently been deceived by some false information. The charge is withdrawn."

He turned on his heel and left the room. The two policemen followed him.

"Keep them under observation," Dory ordered shortly, "but I am afraid this fellow Cawdor has sold me."

He found a hansom outside, and sprang into it.

"Number 27, Southampton Row," he ordered.

Rounceby and his partner were alone in the little smoking-room. The former was almost inarticulate. The night porter brought them brandy, and both men drank.

"We've got to get to the bottom of this, Marnstam," Mr. J. Rounceby muttered.

Mr. Marnstam was thinking.

"Do you remember that sound through the darkness," he said—"the beating of an engine way back on the road?"

"What of it?" Rounceby demanded.

"It was a motor bicycle," Marnstam said quietly. "I thought so at the time."

"Supposing some one followed us and pulled him out," Rounceby said, hoarsely. "Why are we treated like this? I tell you we've been made fools of! We've been treated like children—not even to be punished! We'll have the truth somehow out of that devil Cawdor! Come!"

They made their way to the courtyard and found a cab.

"Number 27, Southampton Row!" they ordered.

They reached their destination some time before Dory, whose horse fell down in the Strand, and who had to walk. They ascended to the fourth floor of the building and rang the bell of Vincent Cawdor's room—no answer. They plied the knocker—no result. Rounceby peered through the keyhole.

"He hasn't come home yet," he remarked. "There is no light anywhere in the place."

Rheumatism in Ankles

One Bottle of Rheuma Cured Woman Who Could Not Walk.

Marvelous as this story may seem, it is absolutely true; but this is only one of the many almost magical cures that Rheuma is performing these days.

Mrs. Gertrude Kozel, Smithfield, Pa., write on Feb. 14, 1910: "I had Rheumatism for over a year; it settled in my ankles and I could not walk. I have taken one bottle of Rheuma and do not have any more pain, and I can again walk at will."

Meyer Bros. Co. will sell any reader of The Sentinel a bottle of Rheuma for 50 cents, and guarantees it to cure any case of any kind of Rheumatism or money back.

Gratifying relief comes in a day, because Rheuma acts at one time on the Kidneys, Stomach, Liver and Blood, and starts to rid the entire system of poisonous Uric Acid at once.

AN ANCIENT EGG.

A hen's egg which is estimated to have been buried for more than nineteen centuries has been excavated by a party of explorers belonging to the Archaeological Society of Mayence, Germany, in the ancient Moguntiacum which was built by Drusus, the son of the Roman Emperor Augustus, in the year 14 B. C. Upon the site of the ancient Roman castrum or encampment near the city some excavations have been recently made with the result that among other relics several water cisterns of Roman make were discovered.

It was in one of these, which was located twenty feet below the ground, that a damaged Roman clay pot was found containing the shell of a broken egg which had been kept from being smashed by a shred of the damaged pot which covered it like a shield. The ancient Roman egg can be seen in the municipal museum of antiquities, and as far as size and shape goes might be claimed for its own by any present-day fowl.—New York Sun.

A fire among rubbish in a building at 912 Wells street, occupied by the Wayno Manufacturing company, was the occasion for an alarm at 9 o'clock Tuesday evening. There was no damage.

AGAINST ALL LAWLESSNESS.

If there is graft in the police department this newspaper wants it exposed and the grafters removed. If there is white slavery in Fort Wayne this newspaper wants it uncovered and the criminals who thrive by procuring punished. If there is any fostering by the city hall of immoral conditions in Fort Wayne this newspaper wants it made known and the guilty held up to the scorn and reprobation of the community. This newspaper wants the laws enforced and it always has stood consistently for that.

But it should not be understood that the conditions of which now so much noisy complaint is made are new. There were more houses of ill fame in Fort Wayne two years ago than now. They were then vastly worse than now because unrestricted sale of beer was permitted. They were the best patronized drinking places in the city and the worst class of them. Bad as these places are today, wholesale drunkenness is no longer a feature of their orgies. That there is gambling here now is not to be doubted, but there is less of it than there was two years ago. What there is today is under cover and existing precariously. If there is police graft now it seems to be confined to the sort that has just been exposed—the giving of presents and gifts—and not the regularly provided tribute for protection that time past was witness to.

That conditions within very recent years have been worse is no answer to the charge that they are bad today. But it should be understood that there is no appalling recrudescence of vice in this city. Conditions are bad enough, heaven knows, but they are better and not worse than they were two years ago.

Whatever there is that is wrong and evil in conditions here today this newspaper is ready and anxious to correct by whatever means may lie in its power. It is not obstructing. It is not covering up, it is not misrepresenting. It has given the news and the official opinions of the news as these things have developed. It should be remembered that save for what ex-Police Captain Dickson himself has told, the public has no evidence beyond a series of grave and sensational charges based upon the communications of a man whose identity is concealed even from the official inquisitors at the city hall.

All that has been charged may be true and susceptible of proof. If there is any disposition in the city hall to protect wrong doers in the police department, any purpose to mislead the public and obstruct the development of a thorough and sincere investigation, we do not believe it can be concealed from the public.

Causes Sickness

Good Health Impossible with a Disordered Stomach.

There is nothing that will create sickness or cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge every one suffering from any stomach derangement, indigestion or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine they are not satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. Three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 a box. Sold in Fort Wayne only at our stores—The Rexall Stores. Meyer Bros. Co. Four drug stores.

MR. TAFT'S POLICY PLEASES.

Washington dispatches state that President Taft has adopted it as a policy to be pursued in the Indiana federal appointments remaining unfilled to reappoint incumbents save in cases where charges are filed. This will be good news in Fort Wayne, where it disposes of the uncertainty that has involved the future of Postmaster Hanna. There will be no charges against him. On the contrary, there can be only praise for his administration. He has achieved the distinction of having one of the "best kept" postoffices in the United States. There has not been a better postoffice administration here or anywhere than Mr. Hanna has given the people of Fort Wayne. In most quarters there has been confidence all along that the president would reappoint Mr. Hanna; and this feeling has grown stronger since the president's last annual message in which he strongly urged that first, second and third-class postmasters be put in the classified service and made irremovable except for cause. After that declaration by the president it was considered impossible that he should consent to the removal of a postmaster of whom only praise could be said. The people of Fort Wayne in general and the business interests specially desire the reappointment of Mr. Hanna and hope for announcement of it at no distant day.

Notwithstanding the general hope for better things, it is evident the legislature is going to grind out the usual grist of laws—laws of all kinds on all subjects—hundreds of laws. Every solon with an idea considers that the embodiment of the long-felt and as yet unfilled. Every member of the legislature wants to show reasons for being there and the statute books swell and the law business is accelerated and the old state wags on about as before and if not much helped at least not apparently much hurt by the additions to the acts of the general assembly. The great evil is that really useful and important legislation finds it hard to get by with the road obstructed by such a throng of small fry bills as are multiplied and multiplied at each session. This condition doubtless arises from the fact that legislators are no more immune than men of any other class to the universal human frailty of fault-finding.

Tammany hall is after the appointment of sergeant-at-arms of the national house for one of its faithful and needy. This is the place that has been picked out and reserved by the Indiana delegation for Chairman Stokes Jackson, who has twice fought the good fight for the Indiana democracy. As this isn't likely to be a case of "I saw it first," the Indiana man's chances are still dependent on the votes he can get.

Senators Beveridge, Owen and Crawford have made it pretty clear to the senate and the country that the Lorimer case is not a one-sided affair with all the testimony and probabilities on the side of the Chicago "blond boss" and his friends, supporters and workers in Chicago, Springfield and Washington.

President Taft is "coming back" as the peacemaker and there are some real signs that harmony equal to at least some of the simpler of the old tunes is being restored in his party.

Fine article of early spring weather, but it complicates the daily economy of clothing, coal and footwear.

BERLIN, CITY BEAUTIFUL.

The determination of Berlin's municipal authorities to make their city the model of what a metropolis ought to be is demonstrated afresh by their intention to maintain the fine forests which surround it. Busy as they are with the problem of relieving street congestion and providing suitable lines of transportation for the rapidly increasing population, they have found time to conclude negotiations with the government for the purchase of seven forests situated at various points about the city and covering in all something less than 40,000 acres.

The price paid, about $45,000,000, is large, but in fact works out at just under half a dollar a square yard. Nearly all the purchased forests, including those of Grunewald, Tegel, Grunau and Potsdam, are favorite haunts of the Berliners and well known to the American and English visitors.—New York Sun.

MONUMENT AS WINNING POST.

There are monuments in all sorts of out-of-the-way places, but one that is really unique is that erected in a river. It stands in the Parramatta river, New South Wales, a stream known the world over for the rowing events that have taken place upon it.

This monument, which is in memory of the world-famed rower Searle, is also unique from the fact that it has been used as the winning post for many of the races for the world's championship, and is still used as such for local events.—The Strand.

DR. HURTY'S LETTER.

Indiana's Good Health Crusader Approves Henry M. Williams' War on Carbonic Acid and Tuberculosis.

Indianapolis, Jan. 7, 1911.

Mr. Henry M. Williams, Fort Wayne, Ind.:

Dear Sir—We have your letterhead and also enclosure and are much interested in the work which you desire to have done. We are with you heart and soul in the matter of teaching the people concerning ventilation; but bad ventilation cannot be removed in a day by passing a law which governs it. The people must be taught, and with them this teaching must begin in the schools. This is true because when people have lived to old age and escaped all dangers, they commence to think they are all right and that the warnings of the hygienist are all bosh. The air in our legislative halls is very foul at times, and yet the legislature will not pass a law requiring that the halls be properly ventilated. This fact will make us all think hard. We think if we succeed in securing the passage of what is called the "Medical Inspection of School Children Act," that in a few years we will have people who will ventilate as a matter of course. This act provides that hygiene shall be taught in the public schools, and the first thing to teach in hygiene is the physiology of breathing and the necessity of fresh air, if health and strength and clearness of mind is to be secured.

We hope you will aid in the passage of this bill by writing to your members of the legislature and urging them to support it. You also would do well to write some public articles upon the subject. The bill has not been printed yet, but as soon as it is introduced you can secure a copy. I would say this bill was drawn up by the state board of education and the state board of health, after many years of study of the situation. Further, the attorney general has reviewed it and so we think it about right. There is a good sentiment in the legislature for its passage, but we wish to have a better sentiment. Let us all join together to help on this good work.

Yours very truly,
J. N. HURTY, Secretary.

P. S.—We send one of our envelope packages, which contains circulars upon the prevention and management of certain diseases and call your attention to the consumption circular, which dwells upon ventilation and fresh air to a considerable degree. If we had money to print these circulars in 50,000 lots and distribute them, then unquestionably much good would be done. J. N. H.

An Audrain woman raised three thousand bushels of corn, five hundred bushels of oats, ten wagon loads of pumpkins, nine children and a shiftless husband on eighty acres of land.—Centralia (Mo.) Courier.

DAILY GAIN IN WEIGHT

Comes to Those Who Use Samose, Say Druggists Meyer Bros. Co.

The poor, thin, emaciated person, when he or she becomes plump, rosy and robust by using Samose, forgets that there is such a thing as weakness and underweight.

Samose restores health to the whole system so that the tissues assimilate from the food all of those elements which make solid bone, firm muscle, pure blood, and sufficient fat to restore beautiful and symmetrical outlines to the figure.

An increase in weight is seen from the first week's use of Samose, but if it does not restore you to your proper weight and give you full vigor and vitality, Druggists Meyer Bros. Co. will return your money. You certainly can afford to try Samose on this guarantee.

AT THE MAJESTIC

OLD BORDER PLAY.

"Daniel Boone on the Trail" at the Majestic This Evening.

The attraction at the Majestic theatre this evening will be the pioneer drama "Daniel Boone on the Trail." The play was presented to a matinee audience this afternoon and met with popular approval. To properly produce this play the company carries some real live wolves and two Sioux Indians. The company is a capable one.

GREAT MUSICAL COMEDY.

"The Soul Kiss" Will be Here on Thursday Evening.

The Montgomery Advertiser of Oct. 18, says of "The Soul Kiss," which will be the attraction at the Majestic Thursday evening:

"The clever, easy-going acting of William Naughton, and the superb dancing done by Ethel Gilmore, was easily the feature of the production. Of chorus girls there was goodly number, and they were all passably good looking, some of their faces being really pretty. The active work of the girls played a prominent part in the success of the production Monday night. Any defect in the looks of the girls was easily remedied in the beautiful and numerous costumes in which they were gowned.

"The scenic effects were pretty. Possibly the prettiest scene is that where Mephisto, standing on the top of one of the tallest buildings in New York, looks down upon the electrically lighted city and soliloquizes upon the evils of the men and women of the great metropolis.

"The act which seemed to take best with the audience was near the finale, where the girls, in short skirts came out bedecked in musical bells upon which they play. The kicking up of heels drew for them three encores with the audience impatient for more.

"THE LIGHT ETERNAL."

Returns to Fort Wayne, Having Proved a Big Success in the Cities.

That part of Fort Wayne's population interested in the theatre and things theatrical have watched with interest the remarkable success on the road of "The Light Eternal," the big religious drama sent out by Manager Rice, of the Majestic theatre, and his business associates, the firm of Stair & Havlin. A great many local people have come to take the affairs of this play as a matter of almost vital personal interest. It is the first road venture of importance to be credited to Fort Wayne and our people are justly proud of its success.

The route of "The Light Eternal," since opening its season at the Majestic the latter part of August, has included Grand Rapids, South Bend, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Peoria, Springfield, Toronto, Detroit, three weeks in Chicago at the National and Globe theatres, and a number of one-night stands. The company is playing through Michigan this week and will be seen at the Majestic for its second return engagement in Fort Wayne on Saturday afternoon and evening. From here they go to Chicago for the fourth week in that city—playing this time at the Crown theatre. After the Chicago engagement the route of "The Light Eternal" takes in Indianapolis for a week, Dayton and Columbus for three nights each, and then comes a long "jump" to Philadelphia. From then on to the close of the present year the company will play in the larger cities of the Atlantic coast.

From a purely business standpoint "The Light Eternal" has developed into a veritable bonanza for Manager Rice an his associates. It is unquestionably the greatest success seen in several seasons in the circuit of moderate priced theatres in which it is being offered, and incidentally it may be said to be the largest and most pretentious offering yet sent over that circuit. Considering the element of "gamble" that enters into undertakings of this kind, the promoters of "The Light Eternal" are to be commended for the risk taken at the beginning and congratulated on the success developed.

MERCHANT MUST BE A TEACHER

Dr. Morrell Talks to Retailers on Subject of Salesmanship.

HOLD FINE BANQUET

"The merchant must be a teacher and the salesman must be a teacher if he is to succeed in the largest way," declared Dr. C. B. Morrell, of Chicago, in his address on "Salesmanship" before the Fort Wayne Retail Merchants' association at the annual banquet held Tuesday evening at the Commercial club rooms. More than a hundred members of the organization were gathered about the banquet tables, and Postmaster R. B. Hanna was in the toastmaster's seat.

Dr. Morrell is an expert on the subject of salesmanship. He is a lecturer for the Sheldon school at Chicago, and in his address he contended that correct salesmanship is the key to profit. "The service of efficient salesmanship," continued Dr. Morrell, "has been manifested more in the last eight or nine years than ever before. Fully 70 per cent of the male inhabitants of this country are salesmen. All are dependent upon this phase of life. The success comes in the sale of goods for profit. The merchants must be teachers and salesmen must be teachers."

Will Send Delegation.

As the result of the address of Ralph B. Clark, of Anderson, president of the Indiana Retail Merchants' association, it was voted to send a big Fort Wayne delegation to the state convention at Anderson next week. A special car will carry the Fort Wayne visitors to Anderson on Tuesday.

When Mr. Clark was introduced to speak on "Why You Should Be a Member; and the Benefits Derived," he expressed the belief that his subject did not call for extended discussion from the fact that the presence of so many of the Fort Wayne merchants was clearly an indication that they were already interested and realized the benefits of affiliation with the society. At some length Mr. Clark discussed the parcels post proposition. He said the farm trade papers are all favoring parcels post because they are controlled by the mail order houses. "Organized merchants are opposed to it," said Mr. Clark, "because it would mean a business loss."

The Other Speakers.

Charles H. Worden discussed the city beautification movement in enthusiastic fashion. "Fort Wayne the beautiful will be due to the younger business men," said Mr. Worden. "The aim of the Civic Improvement association of Fort Wayne is not only to make Fort Wayne beautiful, but to make it one of the most beautiful cities of the country. More people will like to live here and the city will be better physically."

During Mr. Worden's address the report of the plans of Charles Mulford Robinson, in book form, were distributed to the merchants.

Dr. Eric A. Crull took the place on the program made vacant by the inability of Col. D. N. Foster to be present, and his talk was a plea for a cleaner city. He told of the arrangements for the founding of the Fort Wayne anti-tuberculosis colony as an important first step in the effort to eliminate the disease from this section.

Edward G. Hoffman narrated some of the objections to transient merchants, and then urged the retailers to take a more active interest in political affairs. "If you merchants took 15 per cent as much interest in politics and public affairs as you take in your business," said Mr. Hoffman, "you would have a much better city. If you want clean politics you must get clean men in office."

HILGEMANN GIVEN DIAMOND.

Emblem is Presented by Loyal Order of Moose.

Harry H. Hilgemann, past dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose, was presented a handsome diamond emblem during the progress of the banquet Tuesday evening, which followed the initiation of more than three hundred candidates into the local lodge.

Harry A. Wiehke made the address on behalf of the lodge. Other speakers during the evening included Franklin A. Emrick and William A. Bayer, the latter speaking for the class of candidates.

GOT IT

Got Something Else, Too.

"I liked my coffee strong and I drank it strong," says a Pennsylvania woman, telling a good story, "and although I had headaches nearly every day I just would not believe there was any connection between the two.

"I had weak and heavy spells and palpitation of the heart, too, and although husband told me he thought it was coffee that made me so poorly, and did not drink it himself for he said it did not agree with him, yet I loved my coffee and thought I just couldn't do without it.

"One day a friend called at my home—that was a year ago. I spoke about how well she was looking and she said:

"'Yes, and I feel well, too. It's because I am drinking Postum in place of ordinary coffee.'

"I said, 'What is Postum?'

"Then she told me how it was a food-drink and how much better she felt since using it in place of coffee or tea, so I sent to the store and bought a package and when it was made according to directions it was so good I have never bought a pound of coffee since. I began to improve immediately.

"I cannot begin to tell you how much better I feel since using Postum and leaving coffee alone. My health is better than it has been for years and I cannot say enough in praise of this delicious food-drink."

Take away the destroyer and put a rebuilder to work and Nature will do the rest. That's what you do when Postum takes coffee's place in your diet. "There's a Reason."

PATTERSON-FLETCHER COMPANY

WANTED ALL THE GLORY HIMSELF

Cross-Quiz Bring Truth from Peary as to His Motives of Conduct.

NO VALUE IN RECORDS

Washington, Jan. 11.—Admitting that the north pole is just as much lost as ever, and that all future attempts to find it must be independent enterprises unaided by his own work, Capt. Robert E. Peary, the arctic explorer, answered a cross-fire of questions at a hearing before the house committee on naval affairs yesterday.

He told how he wanted the glory of the polar achievement for himself, declining to let any member of his expedition, other than the negro Henson, to go on the last dash with him, how his publishing contracts had precluded him from testifying before the committee last spring and how members of his expedition had been prohibited from writing about the trip.

Capt. Peary was asked to throw light on why, as a naval officer, he made no report to the navy department. Representative Roberts asked him if it was not customary for an officer to report on matters for which he was detailed. Capt. Peary said he had made some report to the coast and geodetic survey and had advised the navy department of that fact. It was his impression that the superintendent of the survey had made a report to the navy. Pressed by Representative Roberts, Capt. Peary said there was a letter of his on file somewhere asking secrecy for his written report to the survey as to soundings.

Roberts Forces Question.

"Why, being detailed to get certain information for the government, did you ask the government not to use this information until later," insisted Roberts.

"I would rather not give the information except to the committee," replied Peary, who objected to testifying in the presence of newspaper representatives. He was given permission to file his reason in writing.

"Why did you not take white members of your party with you on the final stage of your trip northward, so that there might be creditable corroborative evidence?" asked Representative Roberts.

"In the first place," replied Capt. Peary, "I have always made the final spurt, with one exception when Lee was with me, with one man and the Eskimos, because the man I took with me (Henson) was more effective for combined demands of extended work than any white man.

"The pole was something to which I have devoted my life, for which I had gone through such hell as I hope no man in this room will ever experience, and I did not feel that I should divide it with a young man who had not the right to it that I had."

Holds Upper Hand.

Capt. Peary was asked by Representative Roberts if any injunction of secrecy had been made as to what members of the expedition might say. He replied that members of his party were not free to write or lecture after their return except with his written permission, explaining that they were paid for their services. Representative Macon, of Arkansas, interjected that Capt. Peary also was paid for his services through the salary paid him as a naval officer.

Capt. Peary, replying to the repeated questions as to the results of his arctic trip, said that he had not yet prepared such a chart as would enable any one to follow in his footsteps to the pole, but he "imagined" that he had data by which he could prepare such a chart. He said the position of the north pole could be determined just the same as the equator, but the trouble was the comparative low altitude of the sun, which never gets higher than 22½ degrees above the horizon. For that reason ordinary observations could not be relied upon with accuracy.

The committee will continue the hearing of Capt. Peary today, when Representative Macon, of Arkansas, is expected to question him at length.

BENEDICT DRAWS A FINE OF $100

Blind Tiger Charge Was Withdrawn and New One Substituted.

IS OUT OF BUSINESS

In the city court today the charge of running a blind tiger filed several weeks ago against William L. Benedict was withdrawn and an affidavit for selling liquor without a license was substituted and he entered a plea of guilty. He paid a fine of $100.

His arrest followed an altercation with his wife in which she gave the police some valuable information and said among other things that although the license for the saloon at 305 Wells street was in the name of William Williams, that Benedict was the real owner. He had some evidence to show that the leases were in Williams' name, but in the meantime the police had ascertained that he was selling liquor in the rooms above the place and he decided not to make a fight.

In forcing him to retire from the saloon business Chief Elliott thinks he has accomplished all that can be desired and he was willing to drop the matter on the payment of a fine. The government license was also carried in the name of Williams and the United States authorities may take a hand in the matter.

For Assaulting His Wife.

Amiel Lipedot was in court on the charge of assaulting his wife and the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

BLOWS UP POWDER MAGAZINE.

Boy Goes Into Place to Sleep and Neighbors Find Body.

Washington, Ind., Jan. 11.—Walter Wallace, 15 years old, was instantly killed yesterday when a powder magazine of the Winklepeck coal mine was destroyed by an explosion. It is thought that the lad entered the magazine and caused the explosion either by dropping a match in a keg of powder or by the accidental discharge of a shotgun. Some days ago young Wallace left his home to visit a relative, taking his gun to hunt on the way. Monday night he met with some young friends and attended a revival service at a country church, refusing to go to a nearby home to spend the night, saying he was going to sleep in a barn. Neighbors yesterday heard a loud report and rushing to the barn in which the powder was stored, found it in ruins. The blackened and bleeding body of young Wallace was among the debris.

MAY HAVE PURE FOOD SHOW, ALSO

In Contemplation in Connection With Gas Exposition.

SENDING INVITATIONS

Wholesale grocers and commission men of the city have under consideration the question of a pure food show in connection with the gas exposition which is to be held in the Arcade building next week during the sessions of the Indiana Gas association in Fort Wayne. Decision upon the matter will probably be reached at a conference to be held this evening. Only assurance of the co-operation of manufacturers is needed to bring this added feature to the interesting exhibit which Fort Wayne will see next week.

The Indiana Lighting company is sending out 15,000 invitations to the gas show to its customers in Fort Wayne, and 2,000 each to Bluffton and Decatur, where the company also supplies gas. The invitations read as follows: "The Indiana Lighting company takes pleasure in extending an invitation to yourself and friends to attend the gas exposition to be held in the lobby of the Arcade building during the occasion of the state meeting in Fort Wayne of the Indiana Gas association, the evening of January 19 and the afternoons and evenings of Friday, January 20 and Saturday, January 21, 1911."

Of especial importance in connection with the exposition will be the display of the industrial appliance division, where will be shown many of the devices which have been brought out during the past two years. The presidents and general managers of many of the big factories are coming to Fort Wayne for the event, instead of sending their sales representatives as is ordinarily the case. The officers of the Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois associations have taken the matter up and suggest to all their members that a visit to Fort Wayne on this occasion will be distinctly worth while.

Arrangements are being made by the Indiana Lighting company, the Kerr Murray Manufacturing company and the Western Gas Construction company to entertain three hundred visiting members of the gas association at the banquet which these establishments will give at the Elks' temple on the evening of January 18. Arrangements have been made with F. E. Stouder, of the Temple theater, for a special vaudeville performance at the Elks' temple during the progress of the dinner.

It is hoped to have the exterior lighting arrangements of the Arcade completed so that the structure can be illuminated by Saturday evening of this week, and the outside illumination will measure up to about 20,000 candle power.

PLACING HANDSOME WINDOW.

Gift of Fred Tresselt to Scottish Rite Cathedral Installed.

The handsome window presented by Fred F. Tresselt to the Scottish Rite cathedral some months ago has just been installed by workmen, and it is one of the most beautiful in the building. The window is located at the landing of the main star-case, between the first and second floors of the building and is especially tasteful in colorings and design.

IN THE CHURCHES

LUTHERAN SINGERS

Decide on Dates and Place for Their Great Concert.

Representatives from the different German Lutheran churches of the city with representatives from the Concordia college met last evening in the directors' room of the First National bank to arrange for the concerts to be given by the choirs of these churches and the students of the college.

The times and the place of giving the concerts were decided on at the meeting last evening. The place will be the Saengerbund hall. There will be three concerts, the dates being the evenings of January 31 and February 1 and on Sunday, February 5.

There will be 350 voices in the great chorus choir. The program will consist of solos, quartets, choruses, etc. The orchestra assisting will be composed of thirty or more members. The general director will be Prof. H. J. Feldtkamp, of the St. Paul's church. Arrangements were made last evening for the appointment of the different committees.

The meeting is under the joint auspices of the Commercial club and the Federation of Labor, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to hear Dr. Bigelow.

Feet So Sore Couldn't Walk Down Stairs--
TIZ Cured Her Quick

If you have sore feet, tired feet, sweaty feet, lame feet, tender feet, smelly feet, corns, callouses or bunions, read what happened to Mrs. Crockett, of Jeffersonville. TIZ DID IT. Mr. Crockett says: "After the second treatment she walked downstairs one foot at a time. She has not been able to walk downstairs before in past five years, except by stepping down on each step with one foot at a time. This is remarkable. Send five more boxes."

No matter what ails your feet or what under heaven you have used without getting relief, just use TIZ. It's different. It acts right off. It cures sore feet to stay cured. It's the only foot remedy ever made which acts on the principle of drawing out all the poisonous exudations which cause sore feet. Powders and other remedies merely clog up the pores. TIZ cleans them out and keeps them clean. You will feel better the first time it's used. Use it a week and you can forget you ever had sore feet. There is nothing on earth that can compare with it. TIZ is for sale at all druggists, 25c per box, or direct, if you wish, from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

SOCIETY

At a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Josephine Dinnen of the Orphans' Home Junior club, plans were discussed for giving another benefit bridge party during the week beginning February 13. This club was so successful in a similar propect last winter, which was held in Elks' hall, that the members feel no hesitancy in venturing again. Score cards at fifty cents each prove easily sold and as the Elks kindly donated the use of their hall, there was little expense comparatively speaking, for the club to bear, and proceeds were such as enabled the club to send a check for fifty dollars to the orphans' home at Christmas time to buy presents for the children. Officers of the club are president, Miss Evelyn Fisher; vice president, Miss Bertha Peters; secretary, Mrs. Will Campbell, and treasurer, Miss Alice Worden. Committees appointed yesterday consist of Misses Alma Dreier, Virginia Bash, Virginia White, Mabel Hull, Jessie Orr, Hester Bash, Italia Evans, Josephine Dinnen and Bertha Peters.

Jacob Riis, Lecturer.

The subject of Jacob Riis' lecture which he will give in the High school auditorium on Friday evening under the auspices of the Woman's League is "My Neighbor." According to Mr. Riis, one's neighbor "lives next door, perhaps, and needs you as you need him. Go and find him." As a lecturer Mr. Riis is "interesting, instructive, amusing and pathetic," says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, and the Milwaukee Free Press speaks of a lecture by Mr. Riis as one of "intense and absorbing interest." There is no question of a large audience being present to hear this noted speaker, both of season ticket holders and those who buy single admission tickets.

Black velvet and ermine mantle.

NEW MOTOR VEIL

Winter and early spring hats may be put on any old way this season and will look chic and correct, but the veil must be adjusted with infinite care and precision or the effect of the headgear will be completely spoiled, for nothing betrays provincialism and ignorance of smartness as does the veil adjustment. By its wrong adjustment it can give a Paris hat the appearance of being two seasons old, and by its chic freshness and modish draping it can lift an old hat into the front line of fashion.

The illustration shows a face veil correctly adjusted. There is not a wrinkle or a fold in the fabric of the veil, yet over the face, hair and hat brim it fit as though moulded into place. Yet to achieve this perfection without drawing the mesh too tightly at any point requires more skill and patience than the average woman can give to the operation. The trick is to adjust the lower edge of the veil before the upper.

The veil should be lightly caught to the hat in front, the ends being laid loosely around the back. Then with a small veil pin fasten the lower edge of the veil snugly at the back of the neck. After this the ends may be drawn smoothly upward and fastened at the back of the hat brim.

Octagon mesh veilings are just now the fad and dots are making their appearance after an absence of more than a twelve-month. The veil in the photo is a modish example of an octagon pattern on a maline ground, small chenille dots being scattered over the pattern. Often these smartly adjusted face veils are accompanied by floating lace veils, like the specimens pictured in another photograph.

One of these beautiful veils is genuine Chantilly and the other has a French lace border pattern on a square mesh ground. These black lace veils are draped loosely around the hat brim and float gracefully down over the shoulders at the back.

These novelty mesh veils accord perfectly with the braids used for tailored turbans and suits of sicilliene, serge, and broadcloth, and come in all the fashionable shades of brown, mauve, blue, and gray, as well as the black and white.

CARE OF FINE CHINA.

As the best china is usually brought into use during the holiday season, a few hints in regard to its care may be useful.

Fine china is apt to absorb stains, and when good soap and hot water will not remove a stain wood ashes should be tried.

This is a safe remedy, and stains usually respond to such applications.

Salt is also excellent, supposing the wood ashes fail.

When neither remedy works the stain can be lightly touched with pure muriatic acid, put on with a camel's hair brush. If the china has been properly fired the acid will do no harm. Rinse the pieces so treated in warm water.

MALINE TO KEEP WHITE NET YOKE CLEAN.

An excellent means of keeping a white collar from becoming soiled by the fur neckpiece is to tie on a piece of white or black tulle under the coat. With a transparent collar of net, chiffon or lace the piece of maline will be much prettier than any heavier silk or knotted scarf, and will answer the purpose quite as well. A single width of maline, or even half a width, is sufficient if placed twice about the collar, crossed at back, with the two ends slipped inside the revers in front.

This net will be practically invisible if put on neatly, and can be quickly and easily slipped off before the jacket is removed. If a black fur piece is worn, black maline is just as good to use as white, as it is one of the few black fabrics from which the dye does not rub off unless it becomes wet. Waterproof tulle is a better purchase than the ordinary maline. It is a little more expensive, but is far more durable.

When time comes to lay the furs aside for another winter then a narrow band of duck or pique should be basted or buttoned inside ever coat collar to keep the white neck band clean and neat. If this is done the silk revers will be found not to cut through nearly as soon as when the coat collar rubs directly against the collar of the waist.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR EYES.

A Word of Warning May Serve to Check Thoughtless Girls.

The time-honored saying that we seldom hold our possessions at their full value until we are in danger of losing them is never more true than when we refer to the blessing of good eyesight. It is through the avenue of sight that most impressions reach our brain, and when we lose it we are "shut in the dark," cut off from our fellows by a deprivation of which only the totally blind can understand the magnitude. Our eyes are all important to us, and should be guarded more carefully than the most precious jewels that ever came into mortal possession.

Yet how often we see girls doing their best to ruin their eyes! They have often heard that reading in trains and omnibuses is one of the worst things that they can do, but one cannot take the shortest journey without noticing that about four women out of every ten are trying their eyes by poring over some paper or novel, which is jerked aside every other moment by the jar or vibration of the car. Apart from the constant movement and consequent change of focus for the eyes, the light is often very bad, and the headaches of which so many girls complain are frequently due to eye strain from this cause, and to nothing else.

It is not while they are still in the twenties that they are most likely to suffer for their indiscretion, but wait awhile, and nature will be revenged.

For every hour they have misused their eyes, those faithful servants of theirs that did their bidding for years so uncomplainingly, they will pay a heavy toll, and the "failing sight" that is so often the trouble of middle life will hamper their usefulness and spoil their pleasure.

PAPER WEDDING.

For the first anniversary of a marriage fun can be made by having, as is proper for that year, everything in paper, even the costumes of the guests.

Every man could have vest, and coat and sleeves of the title of some newspaper (the same paper, of course, for the same costume). By choosing papers published in distant cities and of varied type and color, great variety can be secured. Then the men should act the policy of the paper represented. The women may take magazines for their impersonations, having the poster covers for aprons, and the general color of the publications the tint of their dresses, which should be made of tissue paper.

Recitations, orations and readings could be made from each periodical or paper, selecting ones also from which songs or instrumental music could be rendered.

Of course the refreshments should be served on paper dishes, the decorations should be of paper, and the food, as far as possible, be those things that are widely advertised.

STOUT WOMAN'S SKIRT.

BY MRS. JANE FORD.

752

6 SIZES 22 TO 32 WAIST

The new skirts for spring and summer are interesting, and some models are so attractive that even the most conservative dressers will not hesitate to copy them. Such a design, and one that is not difficult to complete, is pictured here, and those who wish the pattern for this skirt can get it in six sizes, which run from twenty-two inches to thirty-two inches waist measure.

This model may be effectively developed in silk, woollen or tub materials, and is especially desirable for the latter, as it is not difficult to launder.

To make the skirt from any material, all the pieces of the pattern should be laid on the goods and cut out before commencing to baste. The gores are joined according to the notches, beginning with the front gore and working toward the back on either side. The plaits at the side of the front gore are pinned, basted and pressed in position before the skirt is tried on.

If it is necessary to make any change in the skirt in order to make it fit over the hips, the material should be taken up or let out, as the case may require, at the side gores. If considerable alteration is required, the result will be more satisfactory if the goods are taken up or let out a little at each gore; otherwise the change will throw the lines of the seams out of proportion at the waist line.

The alterations must be basted before the seams are stitched.

The seams can be effectively finished the regular way, then opened and pressed flat, or they can be stitched flat in tailor fashion.

The waist may be finished with a narrow belt or with a facing. The latter is preferable for stout figures, as it is flat and does not increase the waist line.

The lower edge of the skirt must be turned up the desired length and hemmed.

A pretty and serviceable skirt for wear with tub waists could be made from dark blue serge in one of the new weaves. It would be equally attractive developed in broadcloth, cashmere or cheviot.

To develop this skirt four and one-eighth yards of thirty-six-inch material or three and one-quarter yards of forty-four-inch fabric will be needed.

RECIPES.

Kentucky Potatoes.

Pare and thinly slice six large potatoes; wash and soak them in cold water for half an hour. Place in a baking dish, season with one teaspoonful of salt and a third of a teaspoonful of white pepper. Pour over one cupful and a half of milk and bake in a hot oven until tender—about forty minutes. When half done add a half tablespoonful of butter.

Puree of Turnips.

Pare and thinly slice a number of white turnips and boil until tender in salted water. Drain and rub through a sieve. In a saucepan melt one tablespoonful of butter, add one teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of white pepper and two tablespoonfuls of flour. When blended add gradually one cupful of good white stock and two cupfuls of milk, stirring until creamy and smooth. Add a little of this to the pulped turnips, of which there should be one good cupful; add to the contents of the saucepan, simmer for three minutes; adding more seasoning if necessary, and serve with croutons. If no stock is on hand all milk may be used.

COUNCIL DIDN'T WASTE ANY TIME

Got Down to Business and Disposed of Big Batch of Routine.

SCHROEDER ELECTED

No time was wasted in the city council Tuesday night and aside afrom the election of Louis S. C. Schrieder as president and the allotment of the city funds for the year a big batch of routine business was disposed of in short order.

Mr. Schroeder had no trouble and got thirteen of the fifteen votes on the first ballot. There was one vote for Braun and one for Rogge. He thanked the council in a few words. It the ballob for vice president two ballots were necessary. On the first Gottlieb Haller, who held the office last year, got seven votes. Dr. Van Sweringen got the same number and Mr. Pinninger one. On the second ballot Dr. Van Sweringen was elected nine to six.

Although there was a delegation present to defeat the franchise for the Bowser monorail across Holton avenue the council passed the ordinance with only Braun, Wagner and Welch voting against it. Welch said a couple of names had been written in the petition signed by fifty-seven property owners and he did not like the looks of it. No attention was given the petition more than to accept and file it.

Mr. Felger's smoke ordinance had a hard time getting into the council in the first place, then there were two reports, each signed by one member of the committee to which it was referred and when this was finally remedied the committee report urging its passage was rejected by a vote of thirteen to two. Felger voted for it himself and Braun helped him out.

The new president announced he would have his committees ready for the next meeting and that in the meantime the old ones will act on the matters that come to them.

Councilman Pinniger introduced his ordinance providing for the purchase of a standard set of weights and measures and the creation of the office of city sealer at a salary of $1,500, to be appointed for two years by the mayor. The ordinance was referred to the committee on contracts and franchises and fees and salaries.

Ordinances appropriating $100 to pay the claim of James A. Reilley against the city and another of $250 to pay the claim of Joseph A. Miller were passed.

An ordinance ratifying the contract between the board of works and the Kaough Coal company for a year's supply of coal at No. 1 pumping station was passed.

Ordinances ratifying contracts entered into between the board of works and the Nickel Plate railway for the construction of an additional switch track across Barr street, with the Fort Wayne Electric works for supplies of transformers, meters and lamps, with the Olds Coal company, with Thrasher & Herman, well drillers, and the J. F. Zurbuch Coal company were read and referred to the committee on contracts and franchises.

MAKE YOUR DOLLARS WORK

John D. Rockefeller in advising how to save a fortune once said:—"Make every dollar work for you." The dollar that is put out at interest is more industrious than any employee you can hire to work for you. It works days, nights, Sundays and holidays and if it is invested in the right sort of security, it needs no watching.

The best possible security is apt to be one that is sold to you by a responsible firm. During the past eighteen years, our Company, the Title Guarantee and Trust Company of New York City, has furnished more than $400,000,000. worth of mortgage securities to clients and not one of them has lost a dollar. This is a record that we do not believe has been equalled anywhere else.

There is a new form of security that we have developed recently for those whose funds are not large enough to buy the large mortgages on New York City real estate. We offer for sale a $200. Guaranteed First Mortgage Certificate. It has every advantage of a guaranteed mortgage, as the payment of principal and interest is guaranteed. This $200. certificate can be bought outright or on the instalment plan at the rate of $10. per month.

Certificates can be furnished also in larger amounts for those who have more money to invest. The rate of interest on all of them is the same and each certificate is in reality a part share in a group of selected mortgages. They are first mortgages on good property in New York City and all possibility of loss is eliminated through the guarantee of the Bond & Mortgage Guarantee Company with its capital and surplus of $8,000,000.

"The Safe Way to Save" is an interesting booklet describing this excellent investment. We will send it to you upon the receipt of a postal card addressed to the Title Guarantee & Trust Company, 176 Broadway, New York City.

in sufficient number during the calendar year to amount to seventeen dozen for each inhabitant of the United States. Omitting all thought of adding a single egg to the individual share of eggs, but merely to maintain the 1900 proportion of eggs to population the hens of the United States in 1910 must be laying annually 321,000,000 dozen more eggs than they did in 1899.

The per capita product of milk in the year 1899 was 95.6 gallons per annum. To maintain this per capita for the benefit of our increment of population, says the Atlantic, the milk supply in the year 1910 must exceed that of 1899 by 1,242,800,000 gallons.

To maintain butter, of which the per capita amount produced in 1899 was fourteen pounds, at the same per capita in 1910 the aggregate production must exceed the former figure by 182,000,000 pounds.

Of potatoes, that other staple of human consumption, the per capita product at the last census was about four bushels; hence in 1910 to maintain the potato supply for our new-comers but not to increase it for the rest of the community to the extent of even one potato each (one potato apiece means approximately 180,000 bushels), there must be raised 52,000,000 bushels more of this homely but useful vegetable than were reported in 1899.

What this product means is best noted by observing that to supply it would consume the entire potato crop as reported at the last census of the states of California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Maryland and North Carolina.

EATING HIS NAME.

A Servian teacher, M. Medakovitch, has instituted the most successful method of teaching yet discovered. In his school each pupil is provided with a chocolate alphabet, and as soon as he can put his name together correctly he is allowed to eat it. Word making is taught on the same plan. M. Medakovitch's pupils on an average can read fluently in three days.—London Evening Standard.

The prevalence of scarlet fever made it necessary yesterday to close the school in district No. 1, Lafayette township.

DISTRIBUTES THE FUNDS.

Board of Finance Hears Report of Controller.

Sitting as a board of finance, the members of the council, with Mayor Grice and Controller Cutshall, distributed the city funds for the coming year as apportioned by the Fort Wayne Clearing House association.

Of the permanent funds, which will draw 3 per cent. interest there will be about $100,000, and this money will be distributed among the trust companies as follows:

Citizen's Trust Co., 22.6 per cent	$ 22,600
German-American, 10.9 per cent	10,900
People's Trust Co., 22.6 per cent	22,600
Tri-State Trust Co., 43.9 per cent	43,900
Total	$100,000

The checking accounts are estimated to run about $300,000 during the year and they are distributed among the national banks on the following basis:

First National bank, 31.4	$ 94,200
German-American, 14.6	43,800
Hamilton National, 31.4	94,200
Old National, 22.6	67,800
Total	$300,000

The regular pension bill now before the house carries $153,014,000. The largest pension appropriation ever made was slightly over $160,000,000, but a few years ago, so that the annual cost of war pensions is still very close to the maximum. It is admitted by the house pension committee that the bill increasing the service pensions received by the veterans of sixty-two years, or over would augment the annual appropriation to nearly $200,000,000.

WEBSTER'S BIRTHPLACE.

Association Formed to Purchase Old Homestead and Preserve It.

(Boston Post.)

Through the efforts of the Daniel Webster association, headed by United States Senator William E. Chandler, of Concord, N. H., an option has at last been obtained upon the old Webster birthplace at Franklin, N. H., and a movement has been started to raise $20,000 with which to purchase the place.

The old homestead will be purchased, put in repair and preserved as a memorial to one of the country's greatest orators and statesmen.

The historic little one-room cottage is said to be in nearly its original state today—as near as the ravages of time will admit of.

In this 16x14-foot room lived the Webster family, it is said. There was believed to have been born Daniel, the exponent of constitutional law, whose defense of the commonwealth of Massachusetts and New England against the furious foreign onslaught of Mr. Haynes in the United States senate, placed him at the head of the statesmen of his time, and showed him to be as an orator, the equal, if not the superior of Pitt or Burke, of British parliament fame.

There is the spacious old-fashioned fireplace with its mantelpiece fitted above the little cupboard built into the chimney. There is the old iron boiler set into the mass of brick, with a fireplace underneath, scarcely capable of accommodating an ordinary piece of stove wood.

The old elm in the yard measures twenty-two feet in circumference at the base and when in full foliage has a spread of 120 feet. It was planted by Daniel Webster's father over one hundred years ago.

The principal fruit growing sections of Colorado are located in the fertile valleys of the western slope of the Rockies. From the Grand Valley last year, 1909, there were shipped over three thousand carloads of fruit, more than the combined output of Oregon, Washington and Idaho. This immense output was harvested from a strip of valley land not more than twenty-five miles in length and only about eight or ten miles wide.—The Christian Herald.

PRIMITIVE SCHOOL BOOKS.

The horn book invented in 1450 and used considerably up to the close of the eighteenth century was the usual text book of the elementary school. A thin slab of hard wood was covered with parchment, on which were printed the capital and small letters, numerals and some elementary syllables and words.

Over this a thin sheet of transparent cow's horn was placed and firmly bound so that no moisture could penetrate. To this the Bible and the sampler on which little girls painfully stitched the letters of the alphabet, some "Godly saying" and a border of herring stitch, or some conventional pattern of impossible flowers and foliage and the legend "Mary Smith, her sampler," or the like, were about all that the children used up to the beginning of the eighteenth century.—London Globe.

LEADERS WIN IN A BIG HANDICAP

Took First Game With Four Men Against Team of Five Players.

PRINTERS WIN OUT

In order to hold its place in the First Brunswick league the White House five was compelled last night to win the first game with four men bowling against five, and the task was accomplished easily for the reason that a club was picked up to take the place of the Walkovers and was composed of inexperienced men. Hoffer rolled a couple of frames in the opening games, but his pins were not necessary to win.

The bowling of the Fruit House five was below the standard and not one player on the team rolled up to his average, although Hills and Farnan made a good showing. There were two doubles rolled and they were split between Reynolds and Farnan. The Walkovers quit and some bowlers were picked up to take their places, but the start indicates that they will not hold out and that they will not be able to give as good an account of themselves as their predecessors.

GOLD SEALS DROPS THREE.

Fall Enders Easily Defeated by the Printers.

In the Second league games the Fort Wayne Printing company won three from the Gold Seals and had no difficulty except in the first game when the printers fell down and the Seals bowled a little better than usual. Brooks doubled twice and easily led in the contest. The scores follow:

WHITE RATS SAY GATES ARE DOWN

Ball Player-Actors Must Quit the Stage in the Winter Months.

ACTORS NEED MONEY

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 11.—Baseball players with leanings toward the stage will have a hard row to hoe in the future, if plans now on foot by the "White Rats" and actors affiliated with that organization materialize. The "legitimates" are miffed at the success of the diamond stars in their theatrical ventures, and purpose to put an end to it even if it becomes a battle between capital and labor.

The phenomenal advance of Joe Tinker, Jimmy Callahan, Christy Mathewson, "Doc" White and other followers of the national pastime is the cause of the cry for the removal of their kind from the spotlight. Men and women who earn a livelihood from their efforts on the stage believe their future will be blasted if ball players, after a successful season on the diamond, invade the stage.

Dissatisfaction has been expressed for some time at the inroads of the ball players, but only yesterday was any tangible plan adopted whereby the invaders might be barred. Vaudeville actors, good and bad, have been discussing the matter pro and con, and it has been learned from an authentic source that drastic action is to be taken which in the end may mean war between the thespians and the managers of theaters throughout the country.

The "White Rats," a strong organization of actors and actresses, within thirty days purposes increasing its initiation fee from $10 to $100, with the understanding that baseball players or others connected with any sport shall be barred, no matter how anxious they may be to join or what arguments they put forth as an incentive to accept their membership. If this plan is adhered to, which appears at the present time to be sure, Tinker et al. will have to turn to their original trade or profession to earn a living during the winter months.

The argument of the actors' association is something like this: "Ball players during the summer in this country receive the support of the public which in winter time attends the theater. The actors, as a rule, find it pretty poor picking during the hot weather while the diamond stars find it easy. Why, then, should these men who receive big money during the season which is slack for the stage people encroach on the preserves of the stage people when the fruit is ripe?"

AVIATOR DASHES TO EARTH.

Machine Wrecked to Splinters, But Latham is Uninjured.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 11.—Hubert Latham, a French aviator, had a remarkable escape from death on San Francisco's aviation field yesterday. In his second flight of the afternoon he encountered adverse winds that forced him suddenly to the ground after he had attained a height of about thirty feet. Alighting precipitately, he crashed into a fence, wrecking his Antoinette monoplane. The body of the craft was broken into three pieces, the breaks occurring just in front and behind the driver's seat. Latham sat tight and escaped without a scratch, while his machine splintered about him.

DATES ARE ASSIGNED.

Fort Wayne Bowlers Get Saturday and Sunday at Meeting.

President George H. Stang, of the Fort Wayne Bowling association, was notified today that the Fort Wayne contingent has been assigned to bowl at St. Louis on Saturday night, February 4. The five-men squads will bowl then and the singles and doubles will be rolled on the following day.

EUROPEAN AVIATORS ALMOST SWEPT THE BOARD LAST YEAR.

but for the strikingly brilliant achievements of the late Arch Hoxsey, who established a new world's record for altitude and the late John B. Moisant, who won in most dramatic style the Statue of Liberty flight, for which Thomas F. Ryan offered a prize of $10,000, America would have been entirely out of the reckoning in international aviation contests and records for the year 1910.

The "blue ribbon" event of the year, the Coupe Internationale d'Aviation, was captured by England when Claude Grahame-White won it at Belmont Park last October. France captured the Michelin cup and accompanying $4,000 prize when Mons. Maurice Tabuteau made his amazing flight of 362.66 miles at Buc Aerodrome, France, thereby establishing a new world's record.

England and France divided the speed record of the world when Mr. Grahame-White and Mons. Alfred Leblanc contested for the Coupe Internationale d'Aviation at Belmont Park, but neither cup nor prize accompanied these records. Mons. Leblanc holds all speed records from five kilometres up to and including ninety kilometres, and Mr. Grahame-White for 100 and 110 kilometres.

France also gained another world's record when Mons. Henri Farman, flying in competition for the Michelin cup, remained continuously in the air for eight hours and twenty-three minutes.

While no one equalled the feat of Mr. Moisant in flying with a passenger from Paris to London, being guided the whole way by compass alone, the route being one wholly unfamiliar to him, the greatest passenger carrying prize of the year was won by Mynherr Henry Wynmalen in his famous flight from Paris to Brussels and return in twenty-eight hours thirty-six minutes and nine seconds.

Sporting News in Tablets

With Cole and Willis on the Cubs, Manager Chance will have the two longest, leanest and skinniest pitchers in the National league, no matter what else he has.

Connie Mack and his wife will return from their European trip some time this month. The silent Connie will have to be on hand for the annual meeing of the club on February 1.

When the Pittsburg Athletic club opens its handsome million and a half dollar home February 22, Joe Choynski, the veteran heavyweight will be found holding down the job of boxing instructor.

Ad Wolgast must learn to fight all over again on account of his broken arm. The danger of breaking it again is so great that he must discard his left almost entirely and use his right.

When Bill Lange, the once great outfielder, visited Chicago during the recent world's series, he was presented with an auto. Monday he was pinched for getting up a little too much speed on the streets of Frisco.

Probably one of the first moves towards building up the Cubs will be the trading of Southpaw Jack Pfiester. Chance has made an effort to trade Pfiester to Boston for Pitcher Mattern, but so far the deal has not been completed.

Ed Koney is to have an operation for his injured chest. He was hit by a pitched ball last May in a game with the Reds by Wingo Anderson, the youngster who was unable to control some of his speedy curves.

Manager Jimmy Barrett of the Brewers is making a strenuous effort to land Fred Luderus, the former Cub, from the Philadelphia National league team. The vacancy on first base in Milwaukee will be the place that Luderus should be able to fill very satisfactorily.

Percy Mumaw, foreman of the Flint & Walling yards, will be manager of the Kendallville Reds baseball team this year. He is a good baseball man and will make a good manager. Tony Jourdan, who was on the mound last season, will pitch for the team again this season.

Rube Oldring, the Athletics' outfielder, who was unable to play in last fall's world's series because of a bad knee, says his knee is fully recovered and that he would be on the job next year as usual. Oldring says he thinks that he will have another chance to play in a world's series next fall, for the Athletics are going to repeat.

Fred Lake has announced that he was going to stick with the Boston National league team next season, in spite of all the reports that he was going to manage other teams. He has a contract for next season to manage the Doves and he is going to keep his part of the contract, no matter if he has to do anything or not. It is likely, however, that Fred Tenney will use him as a scout.

This will also mean the retention of Sandy Murray at second.

Although the club has three seasoned hurlers and may get Hennis back for a year of seasoning, Wheeler will try to strengthen it. Summers has been in the league long enough to create the belief that he will never advance. Scouts have looked him over time and again and although there is in the majors a big demand for left-handers and every one of any promise has been snatched up and given a trial, our Rudolph is still with us.

Under a new and more capable manager he may develop into a first class hurler. Fred Alberts is back and he is counted on to win the majority of his games. Pickett and Higgins did not measure up to Central league standard last season, but may show better under Wheeler. There are a number of youngsters on the staff and from the lot the pitching department may be taken care of.

Neither Curtis or Courtney looked good last year. Curtis can hit the ball hard and can run, but he generally hits right into the hands of the outfielders and is an uncertain quantity. Unless his hitting improves it is not believed he will be retained. Courtney was out of the game a good part of last year with injuries and did not show his real worth, but not much faith is felt in his ability to hold down a regular job. Wheeler is picking up youngsters right along and hopes to have some real talent when the season opens.

Having settled the theater hat problem through the kind consent of the women to remove it, theatrical Berlin is now confronted with the difficulty of a theater cap, which feminine spectators have taken to wearing instead, and which is as effective in intercepting the view of the stage of those behind them as were the hats themselves.

KNEW ITS PROTECTOR.

In spite of his well-known poor marksmanship, a certain Englishman was invited to the country for a day's shooting. The attendant in great disgust witnessed miss after miss.

"Dear me," at last exclaimed the sportsman, "but the birds seem exceptionally strong on the wing this year!"

"Not all of 'em, sir," came the remark. "You've shot at the same bird this last dozen times. 'E's follering you about, sir."

"I dunno, I'm sure," replied the man, "unless 'e's 'anging round for safety."—Ideas.

A DEADLY ERROR.

Dr. W. B. Cannon, of Harvard, discussing anti-vivisection literature at a dinner in New York, said with a smile:

"This literature, in part at least, is as flagrantly erroneous as the medical department conducted by a young college girl in a weekly paper. A sample reply in this department ran:

"'Bereaved.—The reply given last week was a mistake. It should have been ten drops of laudanum, not ten cups of laudanum. Yes, we advocate cremation rather than the old-fashioned burial.'"

Not only are aluminum wires for the transmission of electricity cheaper than copper, but they shed water more readily and thus are less liable to damage by sleet storms.

MANAGER IS NOT NAMED FOR 1911

Others Being Considered at Zanesville Beside Montgomery.

FUND IS GROWING

Zanesville, O., Jan. 11.—While it has generally been conceded here that the baseball public owes Roy Montgomery a little gratitude for the faithful manner in which he stuck to the club for two years when it was not only a losing proposition but was not paying him his salary, the directors failed at their last meeting to name him as manager for next year although it was thought he had the call for the place.

The argument of fandom ran along the line that Montgomery had shown ability as a manager, had helped build the new park and had shown his true worth under the most trying circumstances and had fully demonstrated that he is capable of handling the local situation. With this in mind it was a bit difficult to understand just why the directors would let him go when there is every prospect that the new man will start in the spring training with ample means to get good material and with a year of comparatively easy sailing before him. It was conceded that Montgomery was entitled to the place as a reward for his work.

There are a dozen applicants for the job and the directors have weighed them carefully and have been unable to reach a decision. They are keeping the counsel in the matter because they believe it will best serve the interests of baseball to do so and the situation is still much complicated.

In spite of the secrecy that is being maintained the impression prevails that the terms submitted by the manager are not satisfactory from a salary standpoint. Economy in management of the club is the plan on which the new directors are working and they expected that the old manager would be willing to stand a cut in his pay. He did not want to agree to this because there will be no traveling secretary this year and the manager will have this increased burden upon him.

For two years the team carried a secretary on a salary to say nothing of the traveling expenses. This item of expense will be cut off next season and the duties will fall upon the manager. Montgomery thinks that with this increased work he ought to have at least as much as he was paid in 1910.

Wonderful work has been done on the guarantee fund proposition and the list now shows that over $6,300 is in sight with plenty of unworked territory that is expected to yield big results. The work has no parallel in baseball history. There are few cities in which $6,000 can be raised in ten days for the support of a baseball team and the feeling of doubt about the success of the game in Zanesville has vanished.

It is not believed this whole sum will be necessary but the directors want to be on the safe side. With a team playing well up in the race it is figured that expenses can be met and that all the need for money will be to cancel the indebtedness that is now standing against the company.

The shops of the city want to contribute to the fund, that is being raised for the baseball team and lists will be placed in the factories and mills to give the supporters a chance to get in on the donation. From out of a tangled mess of indebtedness and discouraging opposition the new board of directors has succeeded in making Central league baseball here a certainty for the season of 1911 and has placed itself in position to give the patrons a good club.

LANGFORD DEFEATS JEANNETTE.

REMARRIES FORMER HUSBAND.

Washington, Ind., Jan. 11.—Information has reached this city that upon the arrival of Mrs. Elizabeth Hardy in Los Angeles this week, where she went to spend the winter, she was met by her divorced husband, Col. A. M. Hardy, former representative in congress from the Second district, and a prominent lawyer of this city, and they were remarried. The news came as a surprise to Washington people.

TOTS NEED FAST BACKSTOP STAFF

One Good Man Must Be Secured to Put the Team in Running.

NO OUTFIELDERS YET

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 11.—Eddie Wheeler and Louis D. Smith are devoting a great deal of time and attention to the catching department of the Terre Haute team of 1911 and so far as either is able to say at this time they have nobody in sight but Ed Goes, who could not be brought here again under any circumstances, and Custer, who is an unknown quantity.

Last season the team was weak behind the bat. Goes was never a catcher of any class and Eddie Brennan was too light for the job and this weakness was a great handicap to the club. Wheeler knows that and he wants to bolster up the position. Goes was suspended and is unpopular here and is to be traded.

It is known that the management is after a man, but the fact that nearly every manager in the country is after good catchers makes it unwise to give out any information on the point. The injury to Groeschow was a greater blow than it looked like at first.

Owner Louis D. Smith is fully convinced that he will land Carney of the Utica club from Manager Charlie Carr, but he will be compelled either to trade another player or pay the cash and either will be a dead loss to him.

With Carney on first Johnny Barkwell will be switched to third where he frequently played last season and where he looked good. Wheeler thinks this place is taken care of. The manager can not cover as much ground as he could a few years ago and he must have a fast young player on each side of him if he plays second and it is possible that he will decide to try Barkwell at short. The lad can cover as much territory as McCarthy did last year for South Bend and Wheeler's weakness will not be so apparent.

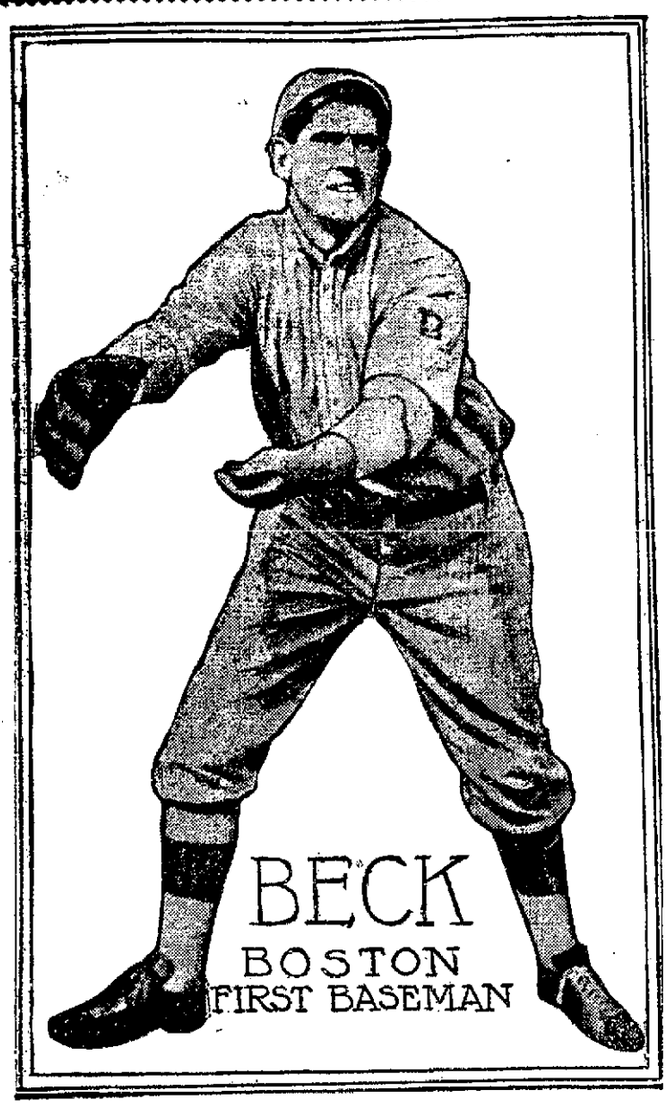

Will Meet Bill Lange

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 11.—Tommy Burns, former heavyweight champion, cabled to Hugh McIntosh today an acceptance of the latter's offer of a purse of $12,500 for a fight with Bill Lang in London.

Burns is guaranteed $12,500, regardless of the result of the fight. He is recovering from injuries received in a lacrosse game at Vancouver and in a train wreck near Tacoma, but promises to report in London within sixty days. Burns will take Jack Lester to London with him.

Turns Down His Contract

Bloomington, Ill., Jan. 11.—Fred Beck, outfielder with the Boston Nationals, stated today that he had returned his contract unsigned, owing to dissatisfaction over salary and that he had learned that all of the regulars of the team had taken similar action.

Barrow Could Scrap But "Umps" Called His Bluff

One of the worst umpire baiters when his team was losing, it is interesting to speculate as to how President Ed Barrow will stand up for his officials in the Eastern league against the unruly players, says a Columbus paper. And the Eastern league is a hard one for the umps—one of the hardest in organized baseball.

Personally and socially Barrow is one of the most likable persons in the whole world. He weighs about 230 pounds. He has a neck like Hackenschmidt. It was said he had a mush like Bob Fitzsimmons, but, be that as it may, the fighting dope went astray on the Barrow performance in the American association.

Umpires were the enemies of Barrow. When his team was losing Barrow roved an umpire about as well as an automobile driver loves a wheelbarrow. When his pitchers went bad, when an infielder threw a few away, when the boneheads worked badly on the bases, especially if there were a few close decisions, Barrow believed down in his otherwise big heart that it was the umps that were stealing the game.

Umpires and players had all the respect in the world for the bulldog fighting spirit of Barrow. They knew him of old. Barrow had once or twice been mixed up in real ring encounters, and several times cleaned out places in rough-and-tumble fights.

One day when Indianapolis and Kansas City were playing at Washington park, the Indianapolis team lost a close one. Bill Hart, the old pitcher, with a record of twenty years, honorable ones, in the service, was umpiring. Hart may not have been the best umpire in the world, but he was thoroughly honorable. His worst enemy never had anything but a good word for Billy Hart. He never swore. He never smoke, chewed or drank in his life.

After that game Hart walked over by the Indianapolis bench. Barrow called him some name and accused him of being a robber.

"I ought to punch your head for you," said Barrow. "You stole this one from us."

"Why, Barrow, you know better. I'm not a thief and any decision I gave I gave as I saw it. As for punching my head, Barrow, you can't do it and you never saw the day you could do it."

All that was said in the hearing of the Indianapolis players, who were picking up gloves, bats and sweaters, preparatory to the sad procession to the clubhouse. And those players had learned to fear Edward, not because of what he had done, but because of what he had threatened to do, and because of the things that they had heard he could do. And to think that Billy Hart, weighing seventy-five pounds less than Barrow and fifteen years older, would say it.

It was a terrific thrust at the big manager.

Barrow was game. He had the spirit that refused to allow Hart to get away with anything. He punched Hart on the nose. They clinched. Hart got hold of Barrow's throat. They went down. The players had to pry Hart away from Barrow.

PURELY VEGETABLE
THE ONE SAFE BLOOD REMEDY

It is a generally recognized fact that medicines taken from the botanical kingdom are better adapted to the delicate human system, and safer in every way than those composed of strong mineral mixtures. Among the very best and safest of vegetable preparations is S. S. S., a blood medicine made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers and the finest of all tonics. S. S. S. does not contain the least particle of mineral in any form, and is an absolutely safe medicine for any one to use. While purifying the blood, this great vegetable remedy builds up every portion of the system. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Constitutional Blood Diseases, and all impurities and morbid conditions of the circulation. It is perfectly reliable and safe for children; and little ones who have been weakened with scrofulous affections or other inherited blood troubles, can take this mild vegetable remedy with good results and without the slightest danger. S. S. S. is unequalled as a tonic; it invigorates every portion of the system, and the healthy blood it creates largely assists in overcoming any derangement of the stomach and digestive system. If you need a blood medicine you could do no better than to take S. S. S. It has been in use for more than forty years and is still recognized as the best. Book on the blood free to all who write.

EDISON'S MOLDED HOUSE.

Inventor Has Completed Plans for the $1,200, 6-Room, Poured Structure.

(Hartford Times.)

Mr. Edison announces that he has perfected his plan for molding a concrete house complete, "all in one solid piece, including the cellar, partitions, floors, room, veranda; in fact, everything except the windows and doors, which are of wood and the only parts of the house which are combustible." Cement men say that the practicable difficulties are insuperable, but Mr. Edison has a way of overcoming insuperable difficulties by "finding a way around" them. The typical house would contain six rooms and a bath and would cost only $1,200, and would give a man for $10 a month a better home than he now rents for $25. The advantages would be exemption from fire risk and sanitary qualities, since should a case of contagious or infectious disease take place the walls would afford no harbor for germs and could readily be disinfected. The disadvantages are that the house, which can be completed in four days, must be built in large numbers and on adjacent areas, since the cast iron molds are very heavy and must be handled by a derrick. The moving of the molds and derrick to any one locality would be a matter of considerable expense, which, if divided among fifteen or twenty houses, would amount to little. Besides, after taking down the molds an interval of four days must elapse before the walls set, during which time the workmen must erect others. For these reasons the house cannot be cheaply constructed on a single vacant lot.

Mr. Edison's figures for building 144 houses a year are for each house:

Labor and superintendence	$ 150
Interest and depreciation on construction plant	140
Cement, 220 barrels, at $1.40	310
Steel re-enforcement rods	125
Bath and heating	150
Windows, doors and finishing	325
Average, per house	$1,200

These items are ample except that for the bath, and the others are high enough to make the total a safe estimate. The house will be prettier and more comfortable than the wooden or brick house at twice the cost.

Aside from cheapness and durability the great point is the elimination of the fire risk. Such a house would be good for 500 years. Double the size of the house and the cost is not doubled, and the man earning $100 a month can easily own or rent a commodious home. Mr. Edison's estimates, however, are for Long Island and New Jersey, for he expects to use the sand removed in excavating the cellar to make his fluid concrete. Further, he must be near an ample supply of water.

FARMER STRUCK BY FAST TRAIN

Frank Zeirold Fails to Heed Warning and is Killed.

RIG TOSSED ASIDE; HORSE MANGLED

A Little Used Crossing in Kirby Scene of Accident.

Pennsylvania train No. 19, due in Fort Wayne at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, crashed into a buggy occupied by Frank Zeirold on a crossing in Kirby, Ohio, yesterday. The vehicle was smashed into pieces and the driver was hurled a distance of thirty feet and instantly killed. The horse was so badly mangled that it also died soon after the accident. Zeirold failed to notice the approach of the train or hear the warning whistle, although there is nothing at that point to obstruct a view of the tracks on either side of the road. The dead man was a farmer and resided near the scene of the accident. Kirby is a little station between Upper Sandusky and Forest, Ohio, at which the fast trains do not stop and No. 19 was running pretty fast at the time it struck the buggy.

EXPOSING A SWINDLE.

Pennsylvania Tells About the Signboard Scheme.

The Pennsylvania railroad is exposing a swindle that has been perpetrated throughout the country. It is that of a large advertising poster which, it is claimed, will be hung in the new Pennsylvania station in New York and in various waiting rooms and other places along the lines of the company. The poster is said to contain a large picture of the new station, surrounded by the advertisements. The men handling the scheme tell advertisers that they do not want any money, only a signed contract, and that the auditor of the Pennsylvania road will make the collections. After awhile a printing concern draws upon the advertiser for the amount of the contract. The Pennsylvania officials denounce the scheme as a swindle. No advertising board will be permitted in the new station or in any other station, for it is against the policy of the company to have any advertising matter posted on its property.

SWEELEY FUNERAL TOMORROW.

All Master Mechanics on Northwest System to Attend.

All the master mechanics on the Northwest system of the Pennsylvania and some from the Southwest system will attend the funeral of the late G. P. Sweeley, who died from pneumonia at his home yesterday morning. The funeral will be held at the family residence, in Bellevue, a suburban part of Pittsburg, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Master Mechanic R. Fitzpatrick, of this city, will attend and possibly Motive Power Supt. T. W. Demarest and Chief Clerk W. L. Wilt will attend also.

OLD OFFICERS ELECTED.

Packard Organ Company Holds Annual Election.

At the company's offices on Fairfield avenue last night the Packard Piano and Organ company held its annual business meeting and election of officers and the entire roster, officers and board of directors, was re-elected as follows: A. S. Bond, president; J. H. Bass, vice president; C. J. Scheimann, treasurer; J. M. Kuhns, secretary; W. H. Wipke, assistant treasurer; H. W. Bond, superintendent; J. M. Barrett, J. H. Bass, H. W. Bond, J. M. Kuhns, J. M. Bond, A. S. Bond and G. M. Leslie, directors.

JOHN CHAPPEL DEAD.

Was Route Agent in Mail Service Many Years.

John Chappel, for many years a mail clerk with a run on the Wabash, was buried at Toledo yesterday. Chappel had the run between this city and Toledo on trains 11 and 14, on the Wabash, arriving here at 11 o'clock and leaving at 5, with lay over in Toledo. James Humphrey, of this city, has the opposite run. Mr. Chappel was upwards of sixty years old and resided with his daughters, his wife having died some years ago.

ALMOST A WRECK.

Passenger train No. 2 and freight train No. 35, on the Nickel Plate, had a collision at Old Fort, Ohio, Sunday night which might have been a serious affair, but wasn't. According to the Bellevue Gazette a serious accident was prevented by the presence of mind and quick action of the fireman on the freight train. The freight train was awaiting the coming of the passenger train, which was to take a siding there, not long enough to admit the freight, and in order that the signal light could be distinctly seen by the man at the throttle of the passenger engine, a cover had been placed over the headlight of the switch engine. The high winds blew out the signal lights and the freight fireman discovered it just in time to jerk the covering from the head light of his engine. The engineer on the passenger train immediately took in the situation, shut off steam, applied the emergency brake and brought the train to a standstill just as the engines struck and both locomotives were slightly damaged. The sudden stop threw some of the passengers out of their seats and deranged the dishes and other things in the dining car, but no one was injured.

WILL PUT UP FIGHT.

The metal polishers and grinders who quit work at the Bowser factory because they were not allowed to sit while at work at the machines, say they will not allow the matter to drop without a fight. They have appointed a committee to look after their claims and will make in addition to a demand for certain working conditions now denied them, an increase in wages. It is believed that the difficulty can be adjusted.

GETS FURLOUGH EXTENDED.

Amos Bowsher, transfer mail clerk at the south railway depots, has secured another month's leave of absence. Mr. Bowsher has been ailing for several weeks, but he is improving and expects to be able to resume work at the expiration of his furlough term. He is a veteran of the war of the rebellion and has long been in the mail service.

IRELAND WILL BE SPEAKER.

Friendship lodge, No. 70, International Association of Machinists, has secured A. E. Ireland, of Pittsburg, to deliver the chief address at the open meeting next Monday morning. Mr. Ireland is a member of the executive board of the national body of machinists. The local union's dance committee has completed arrangements for the annual ball at Minuet hall.

STEEL SLIVER IN EYE.

Joseph Hildebrand, who operates the axle hammer at the Bass blacksmith shop, came near losing an eye yesterday when a sliver of steel entered the optic. The metal was removed by Dr. R. Parks White without injuring the sight, but the eye is very sore and Mr. Hildebrand will be unable to work for a few days. He had a narrow escape.

TO ERECT BIG STACKS.

John Spanger and a gang of assistants will go to Hartford City tomorrow to erect two large steel smokestacks over the boiler plant at the power and lighting station of the Panhandle which is now being equipped. The Bass company built and installed some boilers in the plant two months ago.

LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE MEETING.

Tomorrow the legislative committee of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor will hold a meeting to formulate a program for the part it will have in the work at the state Federation of Labor in getting up bills to be presented to the legislature.

WABASH PAY DAY.

Bulletins announcing the date of the arrival at Fort Wayne of Paymaster Francisco, of the Wabash, were received here today. He will pay from the depot at 7 o'clock and from the shops and freight house at 8 o'clock on the morning of Friday, January 20.

NEW MEN IN THE SHOPS.

The Pennsylvania shops received the following additions to the working force this morning: L. R. Carpenter and P. McIntyre, in the erecting shop; W. H. Radtke, Henry Schultz and R. J. Harpel in the boiler shop.

A PEDRO PARTY.

Loyal lodge, No. 38, Ladies' Auxiliary to the B. of R. T., will give a pedro party on Friday afternoon in their hall at 1020 Calhoun street. There will be three prizes given.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

Machinist Herman Regol has returned from a business trip for the Bass company to Pittsburg.

Harry Shives, a hammersmith at the Bass shops, was taken sick yesterday and had to relinquish work.

K. Smith in the boiler shop and N. Belling and Leo J. Woehnker in the pipe fitting room are new employes at the Wabash shops.

Andy Ryan has been transferred from the local shops to the Crestline shops of the Pennsylvania. He is an air brake machinist.

Machinist Allen Hamilton, of the Pennsylvania, is preparing for a visit with his son James in Cleveland. He will go to that city the latter part of the week.

The Wabash will handle two theatrical companies tomorrow. "The Squaw Man" company will be taken to Montpelier, O., and "The Soul Kiss" company will be taken to Huntington.

Raymond C. Close, who recently resigned as clerk to Signal Supervistor Bartholome, of the Pennsylvania, entered upon his new duties as signal repairman this morning, when he went down to Warsaw to do some work.

Foreman Joseph Slater, of the Bass blacksmith shop, is making a tour of the railway centers in Ohio this week in the interest of the company. He will probably return home Friday night.

Yardmaster C. D. Rose, of the Lake Shore, is in receipt of a letter from Eaton Rapids, Mich., stating that J. J. Flynn, who recently moved to that city, is rapidly recovering from his recent illness.

The allied crafts at the Wabash shops held a meeting last night and reviewed the situation as it affects them. The men were recently granted an increase in wages and they express satisfaction with the condition at the Wabash shops.

The Herman Tapp Construction company has completed the footing for the east abutment at Fairfield avenue for the elevated tracks of the Pennsylvania and will commence the work for the west abutment this week.

W. Sudebrink, E. H. Rehling, T. A. G. Stonebrook, W. J. Freeland and Harvey Stahl, Pennsylvania shopmen, are sick and off duty. Machinist W. H. Moeller is off to look after private business and Andrew and Frank Lauer, of the paint shop, are off duty on account of the death of their cousin.

Robert Seaton, motorman, is acting as conductor on a Broadway car today for the first time in eleven years. He temporarily traded places with Conductor J. E. Hirons, who has been sick and asked for the change to give him opportunity to recuperate. Mr. Seaton has been in the employ of the company twenty-one years, the first of the service being as conductor on a belt line car about ten years.

Do you know what's good? Puritana Fried Mush and Puritana Syrup.

MISS TIMMONDS HERE.

Represents Indiana Children's Home Society.

Miss Louise Timmonds, of Indianapolis, district superintendent of the Indiana Children's Home society, is in the city to remain a week. Miss Timmonds is working in the interest of the organization, soliciting subscriptions for its support and looking after the children which the society has placed in private homes in this section. During the past year the society has found homes for 211 children, thirty of which were placed in July alone. John L. Peetz, recently state statistician, has been appointed state superintendent of the society to succeed Sumner W. Haynes who resigned.

DESTROYER WAS SHAKEN.

"Flare Back" From the Furnaces of the Roe Imperiled Craft.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 11.—A "flare back" from the boiler of the United States torpedo boat destroyer Roe, anchored at this port, last night, shook the little craft from stem to stern and only the fact that the force of the explosion was spent in the stacks prevented a serious accident.

Two water tenders who were on duty in the boiler rooms of the Roe at the time of the explosion narrowly escaped being burned.

It is believed that oil was fed into the boiler by mistake, creating sufficient gas to cause the explosion.

Dr. Sambon has been in Italy studying the deadly disease pellagra, which is increasing in this country. Sambon says in no case could he find Indian corn to be a cause, and that it does not occur in towns, only in the country, where a certain sand fly stings, and, like the mosquito in yellow fever, gives the deadly, incurable pellagra. The editor of the Journal of the American Medical association says: "The evidence on which Sambon supports his views is strong, but more will be required to satisfy the doctors that this covers the whole case."

JAPAN HAS CAUGHT AN OCCIDENTAL DISEASE.

A PAGEANT OF OLD JAPAN—DAIMIO AND SAMURAI.

The historical pageant has invaded Japan, the first of the kind having been given recently in Izushi, Tazima Province, once the headquarters of one of the great Daimios, or feudal lords. The pageant is a reminder of the recent growth of modern Japan, for most of the men who took part in it were Samurai under the old regime, appearing in the pageant in the dress they wore as warriors of the olden time. It was not until 1868 that the present emperor overthrew the power of the Shogun, suppressed the feudal system and laid the foundation of the new Japan.

WAGING "KINGDOM CAMPAIGN."

Services in Full Blast at New Haven M. P. Church.

Rev. Hillis L. Avery, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church at New Haven, announces that a "Kingdom Campaign" is now in full blast there and that volunteers and re-enlistments are wanted. Assisting in the work is Rev. H. F. Schwartzkopf, a successful evangelist.

Services are held daily except Mondays at 2 o'clock, and on Saturday there will be a meeting for young people only at 2 o'clock. Sunday morning instead of the regular Sunday school study work there will be an address by the evangelist, followed by decision hour in the Sunday school. Rev. J. O. Ledbetter, president of the Indiana conference, will make his official visit Sunday and will preach both morning and evening. His evening theme will be "Life or Death?"

The president will also address the men's meeting Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Evening services are held nightly at 7 o'clock. Communion services will follow the sermon Sunday morning, and the quarterly conference will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock.

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT MEETING TONIGHT — EVERYBODY COME.

This means every taxpayer in Fort Wayne. Show your interest in improved City government. Your help is necessary if we are to get lower taxes and better government. Ninety-eight live cities have done it, hundreds of others are applying for it. So must we. Come tonight, Commercial Club.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 11.—Wheat ran up quickly today because of rain and snow predicted for the southwest but turned out to be of little consequence and there was a cold wave working down from the north. In addition, Liverpool reported fewer Russian and Argentine offers and noted a better demand for cargoes. The flour trade in this country was said to show a little improvement and there was more call for cash wheat. Falling off in receipts northwest formed another bullish influence. Opening prices were a trifle to ⅝@½c higher, with May showing the extreme range at $1.01¼ to $1.01⅝. From that point, the option advanced to $1.02⅛, and then under heavy realizing selling reacted to $1.01⅞. Corn was sharply higher on news from the west showing a big advance there in the last ten days, and telling of further top condition there today. Interest for the May delivery were a shade to ¼c up at 50⅜c to 50½c. A reaction to 50¼c followed.

Big sales of oats by a leading elevator concern prevented that cereal from keeping pace upward with other grains. May started a shade higher at 35c and sold at 35⅛c, but displayed a tendency to drag.

Provisions opened easy with hogs and turned strong in sympathy with corn strength. First sales were 7½c lower to 10c higher, with May options at $19.02½ to $19.05 for pork, $10.10 to $10.15 for lard and $10.00 to $10.00@10.02½ for ribs.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

The Day on Wall Street.

New York, Jan. 11.—The stock market today opened dull and barely steady with [illegible] no change in the three leading issues, United States Steel, Reading and Union Pacific. There was a gain of 1 point in Rock Island preferred.

Canadian Pacific lost some of yesterday's gain and there was some other unimportant fractional declines.

The tone of the market was rather heavy in the first hour and the low priced industrial stocks yielded on a continuance of yesterday's late movement. American Beet Sugar broke to 40 and the Central Leather stocks to 1. Representative stocks were not much affected by this liquidation, but there was a general setback to slightly below yesterday's closing. Delaware & Hudson sold 8½ points higher than on its last transaction.

The market showed a heavy undertone throughout the morning. Traders were generally arrayed on the short side and disquieting rumors were circulated which found no credence in well informed quarters. The partial collapse of certain pools while hardly a factor, was not helpful to the long account. United States Steel was altogether the steadiest of the speculative issues, and the street accepts latest developments in the affairs of that company as indicating that prices will undergo no further reversion in the immediate future. Bonds were steady.

After the selling orders had been cleaned up, the market gathered strength slowly and eventually all of the principal stocks were quoted at or above yesterday's final prices. New York Central showed heaviness, but there was an equal advance in Lehigh Valley, following its sharp decline of the morning session. Sears Roebuck sagged 1½.

A fractional reduction in Reading, which carried it a shade below last night furnished the only feature of the late dealings. Speculation on the whole was dead, and traders found little incentive to speculation.

The market closed heavy. The announcement of an increase of $100,000,000 in the capitalization of the Pennsylvania railroad for refunding purposes was greeted by an attack on prices and trading became more active. Pennsylvania, New York Central and Amalgamated Copper gave way to a point below yesterday's close and the list generally lost a good fraction. Central Leather preferred broke over 3 points to 100 and Railway Steel Spring lost 2½. The pressure against Amalgamated Copper was based largely on the unsatisfactory condition of the market for raw copper.

THE MONEY MARKET.

New York, Jan. 11.—Prime mercantile paper, 4½ to 5 per cent.

Sterling exchange, weaker, with actual business in bankers' bills at 482.60 for sixty day bills, and at 485.60 for demand.

Commercial bills, 481¾@482¼.

Bar silver, 54¾c.

Mexican dollars, 45c.

Government bonds, steady.

Railroad bonds, irregular.

Money on call, rather easier, at 2¼@3½ per cent; ruling rate, 3½ per cent; closing bid, 2½ per cent; offered at 2¾ per cent.

Time loans, easier and broader; sixty and ninety days, 3½ per cent; six months, 3¾@3¾ per cent.

BEAUTIFUL SUBURBAN HOME SITES

I want to see the man that contemplates buying a city lot. I want to reason with him to change his mind to buy a BEAUTIFUL suburban acre from me which is equivalent to 6 city lots and closer to city than some of those lot additions and within five minutes to city car. HOLD YOUR CITY JOB for running expenses AND MAKE YOUR MONEY on your acre. Not a bit too early TO BEGON PLANNING for spring.

I have the best 85-acre farm in Allen county CHEAP. Good improvements and LOTS of fruit, only six miles out on gravel road.

Brand new California style modern Bungalow. A BEAUTY, with three acres close in. A mighty nice suburban home to get in and out handy.

10-room modern house and good barn. A BARGAIN. Packard avenue, one block from Broadway; half cash, balance easy terms.

If you have property to sell list it with me to get action. I WILL BUY city or farm property IF YOUR PRICE IS RIGHT.

FINE STATUARY FOUND.

From Cairo comes news of the discovery by native fellaheen of some ancient Greek bronze statuettes, including a splendid figure of Bacchus, or the youthful Dionysos, which is in excellent preservation. There is another male bust with floral coronet and symbolic headdress, and near Luxor a draped statuette of Aprodite, without arms, has been found. The circumstance that led to these pieces having come to light 400 miles apart is not unusual, as the natives purposely travel with them up and down the Nile to prevent the location of the finds from becoming known.

It is conjectured that near the great Sphinx there must remain beneath the immense mounds of desert sand and debris many monuments of the earlier Pharohs, for Ahmed Bey Kamel and M. Daressy have found a whole series of sepulchral chambers and statues of princesses of the fourth dynasty there. So deep down are these buildings and pits that the statues have suffered from moisture and their features are much decayed, but many hieroglyphic texts are legible.

The figure of a queen, erect, holding the stem of a papyrus flower and followed by her daughters, is the best preserved of the relics, which are supposed to refer to the court of Khafra, the fourth dynasty monarch who built the second Gizeh pyramid. M. Daressy thinks this queen was Khafra's mother.

ECZEMA SUFFERERS

Eczema is the most annoying of skin troubles, sometimes becomes serious, too. If a sufferer, try Manoline. Use twice a day, morning and evening after bathing and note in how short a time you will get relief.

Get a tube of Manoline, use it, and if it doesn't help you, bring back the empty tube and get a refund of the purchase price of 25c.

It's guaranteed in every respect.

REQUEST THAT WON REPRIEVE.

The release of Edward O'Brien from Portland, just announced, recalls a remarkable point put forward in his defense when he was tried in Liverpool in November, 1895, for the murder of Sarah Jenkinson, a domestic servant. Evidence was given that he had three marks of depression of the skull and that people in that state were more easily influenced by alcohol than others. The jury without leaving the box found him guilty and Justice Collins passed sentence of death. Then the prisoner astonished the court by the following request:

"My lord, after I am hanged and done for will you allow my head to be sent to the infirmary to be examined as to the wounds on it?"

The judge remained silent. A reprieve soon followed.—London Evening Standard.

A good one on a Maine game warden came out the other day. The warden had been trailing a Boston man whom he suspected of calling moose. Following the sound from the Indian's birchbark horn he easily located the hunter, but got directly in the path of the moose and was forced to shoot the beast in self-defense. It cost the warden his position.—Boston Record.

BECAUSE
THEY DO NOT AROUSE YOUR TEMPER WHEN TRYING TO CUT SOMETHING DELICATE.
THEY ALWAYS GIVE A NICE, CLEAN CUT. KEEP A SHARP EDGE A LONG TIME.
